PRA-2018-02176	Kim	Daniel	11/1/2018	I'm looking for a court document. I believe February or March 2010. Petty Theft charge that was dismissed. Sorry I don't have too many specifics on the matter. Thank you for taking your time with this.		Completed	Erin Nickless	Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. We have conducted a search of the DOJ's legal indexes, knowledgeable persons, and logical places and have been unable to locate any responsive records. If you have additional information on the documents you are seeking, such as a case name, case number, or other details, please provide that to us. You may be able to request the documents from the court in which the case was heard.
PRA-2018-02177	Heo	Elizabeth	11/1/2018	Documents served on the Attorney General's Office pursuant to California Insurance Code section 10134, et seq. from (10/01/2018 through 10/31/2018). Please contact me to arrange a time to inspect and copy these records.		Completed	Howard Wayne	We will provide you with such documents. Please contact Nancy Quach at 415-703-5648 to schedule a time for you to review these records. If you wish to copy these documents, you will need to provide your own scanning equipment. You may contact me if you have any questions regarding the above.

Court records for this case also were destroyed on		Completed	Erin Nickless	You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. Police report records are typically maintained by the local department that generated the report. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of a local or another state agency, we suggest that you direct your request to that agency, in this case, the local police department where the incident took place. Since you are also seeking records from the District Attorney's Office, you would need to direct your request to their office.

				Sept. 21, 2007. Some misdemeanors involving Harrian: FCR227935 Complaint filed Oct. 26, 2005 Status: Purged Revocation proceedings were held Dec. 12, 2008 Comments: We're trying to find out why these documents were purged. We'd like the information regarding these cases to help with litigation in small claims court. Also, when records are destroyed or purged, does that mean there is absolutely no record of them anywhere? Thank you!
PRA - 2018 - 0218 2	Aquino Gomez (case records)	Florencio	11/1/2018	Case-0000490216 date 1995-02-25 I am requesting all documents on this case please.		Completed	Erin Nickless	Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. We have conducted a search of the DOJ's legal indexes, knowledgeable persons, and logical places and have been unable to locate any responsive records. PRA - 2018 - 0218 8	Lindberg	Jeff	11/1/2018	Damion Miller		Completed	Cynthia S. Lumley	Unspecific and unfocused requests for government records under the Public Records Act are contrary to the purposes of the Public Records Act, and requestors should provide specific, focused requests in order to give agencies a reasonable opportunity to respond. General, unfocused requests compel agencies to deny them thereby leading to litigation. The request to the agency must itself be focused and specific. (Rogers v. Superior Court (1993) 19 Cal.App.4th 469, 481.) Your request does not indicate which documents you are requesting. For these reasons, we must decline your request for records as it is currently cast. However, we are willing to consult with you to determine if a more specific request would be likely to generate additional records. (Gov. Code, section 6253 .1.) If you wish to discuss this matter further, please contact me at the address above.
PRA - 2018 - 0221 2	Zimmerman	Andrew	11/1/2018	Re: Alexander Jason ; License No. 5696 To Whom It May Concern: Please accept this letter as a public record request (Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552). We are requesting copies of any records you may have in regard to Alexander Jason. While remaining in compliance with local, State and Federal public/open records request statutes, please provide: - original application for license (and any renewal applications); - any administrative, disciplinary actions or Court orders; - any probationary sentence, grievances, citations or complaints filed; - any judgment, arbitration award or settlement; - any license issued with a public letter of reprimand (non-disciplinary); - any administrative action taken by other State or Federal Government; - any participation in any of the State Board's functions; - and any violation of State or Federal Law.		Completed	Erin Nickless	Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. In your request, you refer to the "State Board." If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. In this instance, you should contact the Board which oversees the type of license for which you are seeking records of. In regard to court documents, we have conducted a search of the DOJ's legal indexes,

				If we've reached your office in error, please advise how we should proceed with our request. If you have additional information on the documents you are seeking, please provide that to us. You may wish to contact the court in which the case would have been filed. In the event that you are seeking criminal history records, we must deny your request. The Public Records Unit is unable to grant requests for criminal records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request to the Record Review Unit. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security.
PRA - 2018 - 02214	Marshall	Andracos	11/1/2018	Pursuant to the Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts §§ 552 and 552(a), respectively, I seek access to copies of all files, records, and documents bearing my name "Andracos Antoine Marshall," "Andracos Marshall," "AKA Draco," or any other variation of my name and associated date of birth of: [REDACTED]. The documents requested includes, but are not limited to; (1.) all "police reports," (2.) "applications and affidavits in support of search warrants" i.e. "GPS," "cell phone tracking," "sting ray" devices AKA "trigger fish" etc. (3.) "F.B.I. 302's," "F.B.I. 209's," "DEA's," "Surveillance reports" and law enforcement "interviews of cooperating witness" Mr. Eric Vincent Bobele in Case#: 8:13-cr-00492-DKC-3.	Completed	Erin Nickless	Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, the California Department of Justice will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. For example, police report records are typically maintained by the local department that generated the report. We have conducted a search of the California Department of Justice's legal indexes, knowledgeable persons, and logical places and have been unable to locate any responsive records. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Based on our research into the matter, it appears that case #8:13-cr-00492-DKC-3 was handled by the Office of the United States Attorney. You may wish to direct your request to their office. Please note that the California DOJ is a State agency, and independently run from the United States Department of Justice (US DOJ). If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of the US DOJ, you may wish to direct your request to their office. Information on how to submit a records request to US DOJ under the Freedom of Information Act can be found on their website at https://www.justice.gov/oip/make-foia-request-doj.

I requested the 911 call from records dpt San Bernardino. It was rejected. Last October i called 911 to report my son was Abducted and I was jumped by my x her 3 brothers and father during my court ordered visit. I remember telling the 911 operator about the Abduction but it never made it to the report. No charges ever pressed. I talked to the DA this afternoon said she can't do anything till sheriff sends case over. I feel like this tape is my only evidence. I believe my X and her family knows one of the responding officers. Call text email good or bad news. I can't get over this failure of justice.		Compl eted	Erin Nickles s	Specifically, you are seeking a recording of a 9-11 call. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of a local or another state agency, we suggest that you direct your request to that agency, in this case, the local police department where the incident took place.
PRA - 2018 - 0218 4	Parker (vital records)	Alan	11/2/2 018	Divorce record, and marriage record		Compl eted	Erin Nickles s	To the extent that you are seeking birth, death, marriage, or divorce records, we must deny your request. The records you have requested are not in the custody or control of the DOJ. In general, certified copies of divorce decrees are available from the Superior Court in the county where the decree was granted. Some birth, death, marriage, or divorce records are available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. PRA - 2018 - 0218 9	Hassan	Mohammed	11/2/2018	General Report		Completed	Erin Nickless We were unable to conduct a search of our records based on the information provided, as your request is missing critical information or lacks specificity. If you have additional information on the documents you are seeking, please provide that to us. In order to facilitate locating a record that is responsive to your interest, we suggest that you construct your request as specifically as possible. Some of the ways one may do this are as follows: -Providing the actual name or title of the record. -Describing as closely as possible the contents of the record. -Describing as closely as possible the subject matter of the record. -Stating the year, and month if possible, in which the record was created. -If related to a case, providing the case name or number. -Indicating the Section of the Attorney General's Office that created the record. -Indicating the city in which the record was created. Absent a request for representation by another state agency, the DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other departments. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency.
PRA - 2018 - 0219 1	Passow	Jacque	11/2/2018	A list of all criminal matters in California involving Dannie Key Lockett, DOB [REDACTED] (including date, case number, county where it's filed, incident date and the law enforcement agency involved. Bowman and Brooke LLP represents Riddell in a law suit filed against it by Mr. Lockett. I am doing background research re Mr. Lockett. Please call if you have questions. Thank you.		Completed	David Baskind We have located one case that corresponds to your request, though we could not confirm Lockett's birthdate. The case was prosecuted in Kern County Superior Court case number BF106718A. On July 2, 2004, the defendant pleaded guilty to inflicting corporal injury on a spouse and resisting arrest and was granted probation. On August 1, 2006, probation was revoked and the defendant was sentenced to three years in prison. We also found a prosecution against a “Danny Lockett,” but the spelling of “Danny” and the date of birth do not correspond to the information you provided. I assume he is not the person you are interested in. To be sure, I will tell you that the matter was prosecuted in San Francisco County Superior Court case No. 13027827. The defendant pleaded guilty in June 2016. If you have any additional questions, please email me directly.

PRA - 2018 - 0223 6	Barr	Luke	11/2/2018	Any communications of William Celli and the Richmond, CA Police Department including a booking photo, police report, any reports reflecting his internet searches and electronic media and any review of his social media and statements to police or the court. looking for any documents of William Celli threatening on social media his dealing with police. The scope of our records related to individual citizens is limited to matters that fall within our Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. For example, vital records such as birth, death, marriage, and divorce records may be available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. The OVR website is located at: https://www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CHSI/Pages/Birth%2C-Death%2C-Fetal-Death%2C-Still-Birth--Marriage-Certificates.aspx . They may also be available through the County Recorder or County Court, depending on the nature of documents sought. In the event that you are seeking criminal records, the Public Records Unit is unable to produce criminal history records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security . To the extent that your request seeks investigative files, we must deny your request. Investigative records are confidential law

							enforcement records of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) expressly exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files of the Attorney General including complaints about unlawful practices. PRA - 2018 - 0220 0	Sebastiani	Jonella	11/5/2018	Crime occurrences by county and month for as many years as possible. Hello, I am a student at the University of Alaska Anchorage. I'm working on my thesis for my degree in economics. In order to answer one of the questions I've proposed I need to look at crime by month and county for as many years possible. My thesis is focused on crime in agriculture. Through Open Justice I was able to download a great spreadsheet that includes the number of occurrences of crime by county and year. However, I will need crime occurrences by month to get an accurate picture of the agriculture industry. I've searched for California data through the FBI database but I was not successful. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of a local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency. The DOJ has complied with your request and attached the responsive documents.

PRA - 2018 - 02204	Brown	Van	11/6/2018	Pursuant to my rights under the California Public Records Act (Government Code Section 6250 et seq.), I ask to (inspect/obtain a copy of) the following, which I understand to be held by your agency: Full complete listing of ALL legally authorized governmental agencies and personnel whom requested/queried, California Department of Motor Vehicle confidential driving/information searches for "Van Andrew Brown" (California Driver License # [REDACTED]) through CLETS (California Law Enforcement Technology System). Please note I am NOT requesting searches performed utilizing license plate queries. Please include any name searches with reasonable name variation (e.g Van A. Brown, Van Brown, Vann Brown, Van Brown) that subsequently resulted in the viewing of my confidential California Department of Motor Vehicle driving/information.		Completed	Erin Nickless	Access to the telecommunications system utilized by law enforcement agencies, including the DOJ, is restricted by law (Gov. Code § 15153). Access to records relating to California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS) inquiries is similarly restricted. Confidentiality provisions like these are expressly incorporated into the PRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k) .) As such, your request for records is denied. The DOJ responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency.
PRA - 2018 - 02205	G bbons (undocumented Immigrant records)	Darin	11/6/2018	The records I request can be described as follows: All records, emails, attachments, and data that were sent to or received from Former Deputy Attorney General Gary Ostrick and Former California Attorney General Kamala Harris's office including, but not limited to Kamala Harris and her representatives between October 2014 and November 2014. When searching for records, please include, but do not limit to the following terms and variations thereof: "undocumented immigrant," "illegal immigrant," "illegal alien," "deportation," "removal," "undocumented worker," "Bakersfield Field Office," "Riverside County Sheriff," "iAntelma Soria," "suicide," "California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation," "Gary.Ostrick@doj.ca.gov" "@dhs.gov" "dhs.ice.gov" or "@ice.gov". The timeframe of this request October 1, 2014, through November 30, 2014.		Completed	Maureen Onyegbako	December 3, 2018 response: On November 16, 2018, because your request required coordination with different sections in the department that have responsibility for the requested records, we extended the period to provide our response. As an initial matter, we note that your request referred to "Former Deputy Attorney General Gary Ostrick," however, a deputy named Gary Ostrick is currently employed with the California Department of Justice - Office of the Attorney General. Please confirm that you are referring to current deputy Ostrick, or if you think it is a different individual, please let us know. Second, your reference to "Former California Attorney General Kamala Harris's office including, but not limited to Kamala Harris and her representatives," is unfocused and overbroad. Unspecific and unfocused requests for government records under the Public Records Act are contrary to the purposes of the Public Records Act, and requestors should provide specific, focused requests in order to give

								agencies a reasonable opportunity to respond and prevent unnecessary litigation. (See Rogers v. Superior Court (1993) 19 Cal.App.4th 469, 481.) The Office of the Attorney General is a large organization with several thousand employees who work on different matters at varying levels. Because it is not clear what you mean by "her representatives" or in what context, this office cannot conduct a reasonable search in order to respond to your request. Third, while your request provides fifteen search terms, the request also states that the search is not limited to those terms. This criterion is also unspecific and unfocused for purposes of conducting a reasonable search. Further, search terms and phrases such as "suicide," "deportation," "removal," and "California Department of C01Tections and Rehabilitation," without additional context or limiting factors, implicate a wide variety of matters handled by this office, thus making it difficult to conduct a reasonable search. The ambiguity created by your broad search terms also makes it difficult to identify relevant correspondence that would have been "sent to or received from Former Deputy Attorney General Gary Ostrick and Former California Attorney General Kamala Harris 's office," without additional information about the individual or entity at the other end of any such correspondence. Fourth, we did not locate any email with the internet email domains "dhs.ice.gov" or "@ice.gov." In the course of reviewing documents, however, we noticed the email domain " ice.dhs.gov." If you intended for this domain to be included in your request, please let us know. For these reasons, we must deny your request at this time. But we are willing to consult with you to determine if the request can be clarified to generate responsive records. (Gov. Code, § 6253 .1.) If you wish to discuss this matter further, please contact me at 916-210-7324 or PublicRecords@doj.ca.gov. On November 16, 2018, Maureen sent an extension letter.

From the same year range like the previous one I requested. November 6, 2018 Request: I am trying to figure out if Attorney's General Office has a database for missing persons. If so, I want to figure out who are missing since 1998 to present. P.S. Email is better to get a response.		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	December 10, 2018 response from Nicole Arnaiz: The report that the California Department of Justice previously provided you with, see attached Excel document, is inclusive of what you are requesting. Specifically, I draw your attention to the "Agency Name" at the far right column. Here you can filter agencies by "Ventura" to see the missing persons cases from all cities from Ventura County no matter the investigative agency from the Attorney General's Office. November 16 response from Jaimie Tackett:

								The Violent Crime Information Center within the Department of Justice (DOJ) maintains an automated computer system with active file information about missing persons, including information about children and adults. The system was established to assist Law enforcement agencies in responding to reports of missing persons. (Pen. Code, § 14200.) The information is not generally available to the public and therefore is exempt from disclosure pursuant to the PRA. (Pen. Code, § 14200 et seq.; Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k), incorporating confidentiality provisions found elsewhere in law.) Furthermore, because the data in this system is collected for investigatory purposes, it is also exempt from disclosure under, subdivision (f) of section 6254, which expressly exempts investigatory and security files of the Attorney General. (See, Dick Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.) Investigative records do not lose their exempt status due to a failure to prosecute, or the close of an investigation. (Id. at p. 355). The Legislation has, however, designated some limited information that may be provided to non-law enforcement entities. (See Pen. Code, § 14201 [quarterly bulletins to public schools] , § 14201.5 [posters to cooperating news media] and § 14201.6 [internet directory].) As provided for by law, the Attorney General has discretion to determine the extent of information and the priority of cases to be included in the internet directory which is accessible to the public at: http://oag.ca.gov/missing. (Pen. Code, § 14201.6.) If available, the following types of information are generally provided: name (first, middle, last), nickname, gender, hair color, eye color, height, weight, date of birth, race, date last seen, agency, and report type (i.e., parental abduction, runaway , etc.) Attached is a full listing of the active missing person cases in the California Missing Persons system with a date of last contact from 1998 to November 8, 2018. The DOJ responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency.

PRA - 2018 - 02208	Giosa	Lea	11/7/2018	Memo issued by Bureau of Gambling Control Director Stephanie Shimazu on September 25, 2018 regarding the Bureau of Gambling Control's plans to rescind cardroom game rules approvals for games similar to 21/blackjack.		Completed	Riann Kopchak	Except as specifically provided in the Gambling Control Act (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19800 et seq.), the records of the Bureau, a subdivision of the Department of Justice, are exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (c).) In addition, subdivision (d) of Business and Professions Code section 19821 makes it unlawful for an official or employee of the Department of Justice to knowingly disclose or furnish records of information to a person not authorized by law to receive them, except as necessary for the administration of the Gambling Control Act. A review of your request suggests no applicable exception to the general exemption from disclosure set forth above. Accordingly, any records that might be responsive to your request are exempt from disclosure under the Gambling Control Act (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subds. (c) & (d)) and by the terms of the Public Records Act (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k)). Your request for disclosure of records as set forth above is therefore denied. However, the Department of Justice Press Office has previously released the contents of an August 31, 2018, e-mail from the Bureau's Director to the regulated gambling community, and it is the only document that might be responsive to your request. Accordingly, in this instance, as a courtesy, we are providing the same to you.

PRA - 2018 - 02221	Danel	Greg	11/7/2018	Hello, yes, my name is Greg Danel. I filed an anonymous report August I believe it was 3rd against some employees at Caltrans emergency line at John Wendlyn because he called me a fing a and hung up on me, and insinuated I was trying to shake the state down for money. Then he sends a guy to my house on a Saturday morning and proceed to hand me five business cards [indiscernible] here five minutes handing me five business cards. [Indiscend ble] And now I find out they turned over the confidential report over to the neighbors I reported it on. They came over to my house banging on my door the other morning saying they knew I called in multiple times to OSHA. 7. Copies of all contracts, invoices, and correspondences with vendors for services related to CalGang. Also, copies of any manuals, marketing materials, or other records created by these vendors. These vendors include, but are not limited to, SRA, CSRA and General Dynamics Information Technology.

8. Copies of all end user agreements and addendums made pursuant to the attached CGNAC Policy and Procedures for the CalGang System § 2.7 .3.

to the request, informing you of the following concerning request 7:

Response to 7: In regard to correspondence with vendors for services related to Cal Gang, due to the large volume of potential responsive records, we are still in the process of collecting and reviewing these documents and will provide non-exempt records in the next production. We anticipate providing the next production by December 31, 2018.

Because of the large amount of documents that could potentially be responsive to request 7, we have not yet been able to conclude our search. As such, we do not have responsive documents at this time, but will be producing non-exempt responsive records on a rolling basis. We expect to provide you with the first production on or about January 22, 2019.

On December 7, 2018, Jaimie Tackett responded: Response to 1: The records requested under request 1 are exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f). The CalGang database is a criminal intelligence system concerning street gangs used by law enforcement for criminal investigatory purposes. Documents and information contained in the CalGang database constitute criminal intelligence information and are, therefore, exempt from disclosure under section 6254, subdivision (f). This exemption extends to any information that would compromise the security of the Cal Gang database, including information that would allow or enhance the possibility of unauthorized access to the system. (79 Ops.Cal.Atty.Gen. 206 (1995).) Additionally, the public interest served by not disclosing the records requested under request 1 clearly outweighs the public interest served by disclosure of these records. (Gov. Code, § 6255.)

Response to 2: The records requested under request 2 are exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f). The CalGang database is a criminal intelligence system concerning street gangs used by law enforcement for criminal investigatory purposes. Documents and information contained in the CalGang database constitute criminal intelligence information and are, therefore, exempt from disclosure under section 6254, subdivision (f). This exemption extends to any information that would compromise the security of the Cal Gang database, including information that would allow or enhance the possibility of unauthorized access to the system. (79 Ops.Cal.Atty.Gen. 206 (1995).) Additionally, the public interest served by not disclosing the records requested under request 2 clearly outweighs the public interest served by disclosure of these records. (Gov. Code, § 6255.)

Response to 3: The records requested under

							request 3 are exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f). The CalGang database is a criminal intelligence system concerning street gangs used by law enforcement for criminal investigatory purposes. Documents and information contained in the CalGang database constitute criminal intelligence information and are, therefore, exempt from disclosure under section 6254, subdivision (f). This exemption extends to any information that would compromise the security of the Cal Gang database, including information that would allow or enhance the possibility of unauthorized access to the system. (79 Ops.Cal.Atty.Gen. 206 (1995).) Additionally, the public interest served by not disclosing the records requested under request 3 clearly outweighs the public interest served by disclosure of these records. (Gov. Code, § 6255.) Response to 4: Please find attached a list of node agencies I outside of California titled "Out-of State Nodes" within the "Request 4" folder. There are no other responsive records. Response to 5: Please find attached a record titled "CalGang Bridge" within the "Request 5" folder. Note, the San Jose RMS Bridge within the CalGang Bridges in Place is still in the process of being connected. Furthermore, the Cal Gang Bridges in Place list may not reflect all current agencies connected to the bridge as this record was a point-in-time document. Records related to Gatekeeper that contain database information transmitted through Gatekeeper are exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f). There are no other responsive records. Response to 6: Please find attached four current Memoranda of Understanding within the "Request 6" folder. There are no other responsive records. Response to 7: Within the "Request 7" folder, please find attached invoices and contracts; a bidder declaration; a request for quote; and an authorization letter. The GangNet Manual which was created by General Dynamics Information Technology is exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f). Additionally, the public interest served by not disclosing the GangNet Manual clearly outweighs the public interest served by disclosure of these records. (Gov. Code, § 6255.) Lastly, the GangNet Manual's vendor claims that it has intellectual property rights in connection with the manual and that disclosure of the manual will disclose the vendor's "trade secrets." (Civ. Code, § 3426 et seq.) The vendor contends that the CalNet Manual is exempt from disclosure under Evidence Code section 1060 and Government Code section 6254, subdivision (k). In regard to correspondence with vendors for

PRA - 2018 - 02235	Hamilton	George	11/9/2018	Five copies of the California DOJ Complaint Form titled: "Complaint about peace officers/Law Enforcement Agency." The California Policy and procedure in which the complaint form identified in Request #1 is process and investigated; therewith the name(s)/title(s) of all DOJ personnel responsible for its operation		Completed	Erin Nickless	Enclosed please find a copy of the California Department of Justice policy governing citizen complaints against law enforcement, and five copies of the complaint form requested above. In regard to your request for names and titles, your request is somewhat unclear. As you are aware, the Attorney General is the head of the Department of Justice. The Offices of the Attorney General are located in six different cities. Based on the context of the other items mentioned in your request, it does not appear that we have a roster that matches the description of the record you have described; or, such materials may not be maintained, indexed or categorized according to the criteria provided. Consequently, we will be unable to provide you with that record as the request is currently cast. If you can provide more specifics about the documents you are seeking, we may be able to consult with you to assist you in obtaining the desired information. In the event that your request seeks investigative files, please note that investigative records are confidential law enforcement records of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) expressly exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files of the Attorney General including complaints about unlawful practices. (See Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.)
PRA - 2018 - 02276	Geranen	Susan	11/9/2018	The charging document in the criminal case Carter v. Smothers filed in 2016 against Sherill Smothers of Granite Bay, CA. Mr. Smothers was convicted in July 2018 and will be sentenced on November 16, 2018. I am just trying to get a copy of the charging document in this case. I was hoping it was online.		Completed	Erin Nickless	To the extent that you are seeking court records, we have searched our legal indices and found no responsive records. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. You may be able to direct your request to the court in which the case was filed. To the extent that you are seeking criminal history records, we must deny your request. The Public Records Unit is unable to grant requests for criminal records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request to the Record Review Unit. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security .

PRA - 2018 - 02230	Becerra	Joseph	11/13/2018	All records related to the investigation by the California Department of Justice related or pertaining to Joseph R. Becerra regarding the case entitled Randle v. Dunn-Edwards Corporation, Superior Court, County of Los Angeles, Case No. BC485467. On November 8, 2018, Mr. Becerra received correspondence from Depty Attorney General Kenneth J. Sugarman stating that "The Office of the California Attorney General ("AGO") is investigating whether you and your co-counsel in the [Randle matter] may have violated the Calfronia False Claims Act..." This request pursuant to the California Public Records Act, is a request for all documents related to the aforementioned investigation referenced by Mr. Sugarman. To the extent that the AGO deems any records requested protected by any privilege, please provide a privilege log or legal authority for the refusal for production. Additionally, to the extent that redactions can be applied to protect any claimed privileged information, please apply and produce any referenced and/or covered document in this request.		Completed	Erin Nickless	To the extent that your request seeks investigative files, we must deny your request. Investigative records are confidential law enforcement records of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) expressly exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files of the Attorney General including complaints about unlawful practices. (See Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.) Please be advised that there is no obligation under the Public Records Act to provide a privilege log; moreover, to do so would be unduly time-consuming and burdensome. Please see Haynie v Superior Court (2001) 26 Cal.4th 1061, at 1074, where the California Supreme Court noted that public agencies must articulate the specific PRA exemption pertaining to records withheld. "What section 6255 does not require, however, is for the agency to go further and describe each of the documents falling within the statutory exemption." Italics in original. Therefore, we decline to produce a privilege log.

PRA - 2018 - 02247	Vaughn	Tsehsien	11/15/2018	I am the daughter and administrator of my father's probate. My father is Su-Yang Lee who died July 23, 2018. Please provide me with all public records connected with my father. Thank you.		Completed	Erin Nickless Absent a request for representation, DOJ responds solely on its own behalf and not on behalf of other agencies. We have searched our records and legal indices and found no records responsive to your request. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. The scope of our records related to individual citizens is limited to matters that fall within our Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. For example, we note that your public records request is directed to the Department of Justice, but may seek records regarding a probate matter, estate records, and/or a trust. You may wish to contact the local court in which the probate matter would be heard. If you are seeking unclaimed property linked to an estate, you may wish to contact the State Controller's office. If you are seeking information related to a trust, you may wish to contact the financial institution or custodian that holds the trust.
PRA - 2018 - 02252	Dawson (NBCUni)	Cory	11/15/2018	November 27, 2018 acknowledgement of extension: Thank you for this letter. We will look forward to receiving a response on December 10 as stated. Thanks again for your work, and please do not hesitate to write back should you or anyone else need further clarification of our request. November 15, 2018 request: Under the California Public Records Act § 6250 et seq., I am requesting access to inspect or obtain copies of any and all public records produced on or since July 27, 2018 relating to current or potential investigations by the California Attorney General or any other California investigative or law enforcement entity of sexual abuse allegations within the Catholic Church. I am also requesting copies of any and all communications produced on or since July 27, 2018 between the Attorney General and/or any other California investigative or law enforcement entity and any Catholic Archdiocese, Diocese or Parish, located in the State of California.		Completed	Julia Zuffelato December 17, 2018 response: The first round of documents sent on December 13, 2018 concludes our response to your request. December 13, 2018 response: Attached is the first round of documents responsive to your request. December 10, 2018 response: On November 26, 2018, we extended the time to respond to your request to December 10, 2018. (Gov. Code, § 6253, subd. (c); Code Civ. Proc., §§ 10, 12a, 135.) We have determined that the request seeks disclosable public records in our possession. (See Gov. Code, § 6253, subd. (c).) We are still in the process of gathering and reviewing the responsive documents, and anticipate sending the documents on or about December 21, 2018. However, we will not produce any records or portions of records that fall under the following exemptions: Investigatory Records Exemption (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (f)) To the extent your request seeks records in an investigatory or security file, Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f), expressly exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files

								of the Attorney General including complaints about unlawful practices. (See Dick Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.) Investigatory records do not lose their exempt status due to a failure to prosecute, or the close of an investigation. (Id. at p. 355 [a time limitation on the exemption for investigatory files is virtually impossible to reconcile with the language and history of subdivision (f)].) Complaints of clergy abuse fall within investigatory records exemption, and are not subject to disclosure. Attorney Work Product Exemption (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030; Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k)) The attorney work product exception, which protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories, is also incorporated into the Act as an exemption from disclosure. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030; Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819.) Records prepared by the attorneys employed with the Attorney General's Office that are subject to the work product exception are exempt from disclosure under the Act. Legal advice relating to complaints of clergy abuse fall within the attorney work product exemption, and are not subject to disclosure. Deliberative Process Privilege (Gov. Code, § 6255) The deliberative process privilege exempts from disclosure materials that would expose an agency's decision making process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion within the agency and thereby undermine the agency's ability to perform its functions. (Times Mirror Co. v. Superior Court (1991) 53 Cal.3d 1325, 1342-1343, 1346.) Records that reveal deliberative processes are protected through application of Government Code section 6255. Any documents containing statutory interpretation, analyses, draft language, and memoranda concerning the strengths and weaknesses of a particular proposal would be covered by this privilege. Even if the content of a document is purely factual, it is nonetheless exempt from public scrutiny if it is actually related to the process by which policies are formulated or, if it is inextricably intertwined with policymaking processes. (Id. at p. 1342.) If the public interest in nondisclosure clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure, the deliberative process privilege applies. (Cal. First Amendment Coalition v. Superior Court (1998) 67 Cal.App.4th 159, 172-173.) Communications regarding complaints of clergy abuse fall within the deliberative process privilege, and are not

PRA - 2018 - 02269	Triplett	Treasurer	11/19/2018	Triplett vs. Swift Transportation I am requesting a forensic Public Records Request in order to review an itemized statement of where the monies have been disbursed since I have been obligated to pay my own medical bills and Ellis Law Corporation has received more funds than myself, the injured party.		Completed	Erin Nickless	We have searched our legal indices and found no responsive records. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since you are seeking records related to a case filed with a court, you may wish to direct your request to their office.

PRA - 2018 - 0227 2	Cohen	Jonathan	11/19/2018	Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. Subsection 552, I am requesting access to all records provided to the Office of Attorney General by or on behalf of Facebook, Inc. regarding the Facebook data breach that occurred on September 25, 2018 and was publicly announced on September 28, 2018, wherein the personal information of approximately 50 million Facebook users was exposed through a flaw in Facebook's code. This request includes all records provided to the Office of the Attorney General between September 1, 2018 and the present in any format.	Morgan & Morgan Complex Litigation Group	Completed	Titin Nguyen	We have conducted a search of our records. To the extent any responsive records exist, we respectfully deny your request. The records would be confidential law enforcement records of the Attorney General, and, therefore, exempt from disclosure. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f), expressly exempts from disclosure records of complaints to, or investigations conducted by, the Office of the Attorney General and the Department of Justice.
PRA - 2018 - 0227 3	Richards (Peninsula Press) (Megan's Law)	Connor	11/19/2018	Pursuant to my rights under the California Public Records Act (Government Code Section 6250 et seq.), I ask to (inspect/obtain a copy of) the following, which I understand to be held by your agency: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● A list of all people who registered as sex offenders in California between Jan. 1, 1979 and Dec. 31, 2015. Please include the offense code and description. I ask for a determination on this request within 10 days of your receipt of it, and an even prompter reply if you can make that determination without having to review the records in question.		Completed	Jennifer Binger	Unfortunately, we must deny your request for the following reasons: (1) Public access to confidential sex offender registration information is controlled by Megan's Law which, for database integrity reasons, limits such access to real-time internet searches on the Megan's Law web site; and (2) Given the constantly changing nature of the Megan Law's database, the public's interest is best served by limiting public access to confidential sex offender registration information that is accurate and up-to-date. Megan's Law Provides for Internet Access Only Most of the information provided by registering sex offenders during the registration process is confidential (i.e., not open to public inspection). (Pen. Code, § 290.021.) The same is also true for "criminal offender record information" kept in the Department of Justice's California Sex and Arson Registry ("CSAR"). Additionally, the PRA expressly exempts from disclosure documents that are private in nature, as well as documents that are investigatory in nature. (Gov't Code §§ 6254, subds. (c) and (f).) To the extent your request seeks information that is confidential in nature, within the meaning of Penal Code section 290.021 or other state statute, your request is denied. However, despite the confidential nature of this information, California provides members of the public with limited access to some of the sex offender registration information via the Megan's Law internet web site. Specifically, Penal Code section 290.46 provides that "the Department of Justice shall make available information concerning persons who are required to register pursuant to Section 290 to the public via an Internet Web site as specified in this section." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, subd. (a)(l), italics added.) The statute further requires the department to "update the Internet Web site on an ongoing basis." (Ibid.) As mentioned in the notes to this code section, the Legislature created the Megan's Law web site with the intent "that the Department of Justice [would]

							continue to maximize all available resources to ensure the highest degree of accuracy in the sex registration database." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2004 ch. 745, § 2.) Additionally, the Legislature enacted Megan's Law with the intent that "California's infrastructure for collecting, maintaining, and disseminating information about registered sex offenders [would] be retooled to ensure that law enforcement and the public have access to accurate, up-to-date, and relevant information about registered sex offenders." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2006 ch. 337, § 2, subd. (c), italics added.) Thus, in order to help ensure and maintain the accuracy of this information, the Legislature limited the public dissemination of sex offender registration information to the Megan's Law web site. The information posted on the Megan's Law web site is the only information that is available to the public. Thus, any requests submitted to the Department of Justice for additional information not displayed on the Internet site must be denied. The Public Interest is Best Served by Limiting Access to Current and Accurate Information In your request, you state you are looking for an Excel spreadsheet containing "A list of all people who registered as sex offenders in California between Jan. 1, 1979 and Dec. 31, 2015. Please include the offense code and description." The information that appears on the Megan's Law web site is processed through a thirdparty vendor. The purpose of the web site is to provide members of the public access to the most current sex offender registrant data. Thus, the site, which is updated daily to reflect any new additions, deletions, and modifications to the registrant database, stores and displays only the current day's data, and does not disclose the historical sex offender registration information which you request. The Offender Registration Application Unit ("ORAU") is the internal unit within the Department of Justice that provides technology support and maintenance for CSAR, the State's repository for sex and arson registration information. Every day, ORAU creates a file which contains a snapshot of the registration data for that day. Our vendor then downloads that file from our site and stores the file on the hard drive of the server that creates the files used for the web site. Specifically, our vendor runs a program that takes that day's data and completely recreates the data files that are used by the web servers to provide the data to the public. Our vendor does not employ any database for this process, only temporary ISAM files. No transaction or other record keeping measures are utilized. The previous day's data on the web servers is overwritten with the new data. The
--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--

							data is also overwritten on the computer where these daily data files are created. On our end, ORAU keeps a backup for seven days of the extract file that is sent to our vendor. However, the information on the backup files is not a mirror image of what appears on the public web site because it contains information that is excluded from public view during our vendor's processing of the information. Additionally, even if our vendor reprocessed the information from one of the backup files, we could not ensure the accuracy of all the information because of the ever-changing nature of the registration database. In other words, because the registration database changes on a daily basis (i.e., newly added registrants, newly removed registrants, and changes to registrant's data) even a delay of one day would result in a report that contained inaccurate data. Such results do not comply with the Legislature's stated intent "that the Department of Justice ... ensure the highest degree of accuracy in the sex registration database" (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2004 ch. 745, § 2) and "ensure that ... the public have access to accurate, up-to-date, and relevant information about registered sex offenders" (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2006 ch. 337, § 2, subd. (c)). Due to the constantly changing nature of the information in the registry, a "snapshot" view of the information for any given day of the Megan's Law web site would almost certainly be obsolete the following day. In other words, the day-old "snapshot" would contain some information that should have been removed, and it would be missing other information that should have been added. Given the sensitive nature of the information at issue, we cannot allow such inaccurate records to exist. The problem is further compounded by the fact that if we provide a "snapshot" for one member of the public we have to provide a "snapshot" to every member of the public that requests it. In doing so, we would be creating a situation wherein an untold number of inaccurate "snapshots" of the database would exist. Furthermore, given the highly sensitive nature of sex offender registration information, providing the public with inaccurate information could cause real public safety concerns. For instance, if registration information is disseminated about a person who is no longer required to register or be posted on the web site, or someone who registered upon entering the state and was later advised that he or she did not have a duty to register as a sex offender in California, that person may be subjected to undue harassment or even danger. As every day goes by, the obsolescence of the report and the inaccuracies contained within it continue to grow.

								Finally, we receive a multitude of similar requests from members of the public, especially broadcast and print media outlets. Depending on the volume and requested frequency (i.e., daily, weekly, monthly) of such requests if we were required to produce sex offender registration database information, the additional time and work required for responding to the requests could have a dramatic impact on our ability to successfully perform the core functions of CSAR, which in turn could affect public safety.

Muckr ock	Compl eted	Jaimie Tackett	Please see below your three requests followed by our office's responses. Request (1): Can you confirm that all the cases of missing persons you sent me are people who are still listed as missing? Response: Yes. The list that was sent to you is of current missing persons as of the date the report was ran, November 11, 2018. Request (2): Can you explain why the missing persons list includes both American Indian and Indian American people? Response: As indicated in our response letter, American Indian is denoted by "I." The list includes only "I," therefore, Indian American persons are not included. Request (3): The homicide file provided doesn't actually provide any victim names or information we can use to log such cases in our own records. This is for a national project assessing numbers and dynamics of violence against indigenous women and girls, so more detailed data would be crucial for us. We are working on a 4 part docu-series on the Rebecca Zahau death in Coronado/San Diego. It's a controversial nationally covered story on what was ruled a suicide by Rebecca. On July 11th, 2011 Max Shacknai, the son of Rebecca's boyfriend (Jonah Shacknai) had a bad accident in their Coronado Mansion while under Rebecca's care. Max would pass away from his injuries days later. On July 13th, 2011 Rebecca was found death hanging from a balcony in their same house from Max's accident. Three federal agents were present at the scene. Those same agents conducted interviews while investigating Max and Rebecca's tragic death. I would like to request a FOIA for any documents or any visual or audio elements from the 3 DOJ officers present at the scene during that time. Their names are DOJ SA TYLER BURTIS , DOJ SA VICTOR RESENDEZ & DOJ SA ROSIO WAGNER. Also would be interested in requesting any other documents you may have on file from this case that I may be able to obtain.		Completed	Marisa Kolm	Letter dated December 3, 2018, sent December 5: We must decline your request for the reasons set forth below. You have requested investigative records from this office. Lumley	We interpret your request for information in this instance to include the reporter's transcript of oral proceedings in comi as opposed to either deposition transcripts or the clerk's transcript of official events in connection with the litigation. For the reasons set forth below, such transcripts are exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. Government Code section 69954, subdivision (d) provides as follows: (d) Any court, party, or person who has purchased a transcript may, without paying a further fee to the reporter, reproduce a copy or portion thereof as an exhibit pursuant to court order or rule, or for internal use, but shall not otherwise provide or sell a copy or copies to any other person or party. We understand this statutory provision to require members of the public who seek reporter transcripts of oral court proceedings to acquire them only from the reporter, and not from public agencies that may have purchased them in the course of litigation. This statutory directive is incorporated into the Public Records Act by Government Code section 6254 subdivision (k). Accordingly, this office cannot provide you with copies of transcripts of oral court proceedings. PRA - 2018 - 02294	Huesing	Kari	11/25/2018	An Attorney told me to contact you. I'm in fear of my safety. I had a serious DV with Christian Paul McCoy Nov,1, 2017. No one followed up on it. And for past year I've been hurrassing attempted many times to be ran over by vehicles. Just purchased the police report and states it was a lovers quarrel. MINOR INJURIES. Christian's name is not on the report. The Sheriff had me show injuries so he could take pictures. No female officer. Pubic area and breasts. Among my face and missing tooth. I was told by Chris I was lucky he didn't Barry me. As to kill me. That was before and after the sexual assault / DV. The officer stated in his report no visible injuries. Yest states MINOR - takes picture of a bloody mattress and pillow. Fresh blood. My nose wasn't bleeding. Too swollen. That was all my violent injuries. This same officer had never forwarded the report to The District Attorney in Quincy. DA got it via me 10/2/2018 requested report and as of 11/18/18 she never got it nor followed up. Says going to now. I asked to speak to Sargeant to file charges on original Sheriff. He was to call me. Then I get a call from the officer Leiss wanting to know what I wanted? That scared me. That was a few days ago. Looking over the CAD reports and Police report they are making a lot of this up. I'm not sure why??? Calls I had made when in serious trouble are not present. My number is [REDACTED] I am not joking about being scared I have written Whistle blower begging for help and that they are retaliation. He was arrested for being drunk in public twice in the cal poly area near cal poly slo university. One of these arrests was either may or april of this year and I do not remember when the second time was. Any help on gathering this image would be greatly appreciated. Update to my previous request. The first incident of Laurence duclos was spring 2017, the next was fall 2017. Would like to see both mug shots if poss ble. Best, Davide		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	Unfortunately, the Department of Justice (DOJ) is unable to comply with your request. The DOJ maintains the Cal-Photo network and application, which provides law enforcement and criminal justice public agencies access to mugshot images maintained by California's law enforcement agencies, as well as a connection to the photographs and data maintained by the California Department of Motor Vehicles. Pursuant to the Cal-Photo Policies, Practices, and Procedures (PPP), information accessed via Cal-Photo is confidential and for official use only by authorized law enforcement personnel and the release of Cal-Photo information for non-law enforcement purposes is prohibited. This is due to the fact that Cal-Photo image records are a part of the California state summary criminal history records maintained by the DOJ, which are not public records. Pursuant to California Penal Code section 11076, access to criminal history records is restricted to agencies that are statutorily authorized to receive such records. The only exception to this rule is an individual requesting his or her own records. California Penal Code sections 11120 through 11127 afford an individual the opportunity to obtain a copy of his

PRA - 2018 - 02342	Chiaramonte (FOX News)	Perry (Sex Trafficking Stats/Budget)	11/26/2018	To whom it may concern, Perry Chiaramonte with Fox News Channel in New York. I am reaching out to you today in regards to a request for public records. We are working on a story regarding Sex trafficking, with a particular focus on trafficking along Interstate 80 and reaching out to various agencies across the country in an attempt to collect data. Any help would be greatly appreciated. The following three items constitute my request for public records from the California AG Office: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Total human trafficking cases, broken down by year, for the previous three years.- Any internal policies or protocols concerning human trafficking crimes, such as which outside agencies to contact and when.- Budgets allocated for human trafficking crimes and task forces developed to deal with human trafficking crimes. I'm requesting the records be returned electronically over email, which helps facilitate any redactions that may need to occur and the speed with which the request can be fulfilled. I'm also requesting any fees to be waived, as the record are pertinent to the public interest. I'm looking forward to your response at your earliest convenience. Let me know if you need any further clarification.		Completed	Amanda Plisner	Our office has completed its search for records responsive to your request. There is no existing record that reflects the number of human trafficking cases, broken down by year, for the previous three years. However, in 2015, we filed 2 cases, both of which were pending in 2016 and 2017, in 2017 we filed 2 cases, and to date in 2018 we have filed 1 case. These numbers do not include ongoing human trafficking investigations or other sexual exploitation cases, such as pimping and/or pandering, at any stage. In addition, during the past three years DOJ has handled 63 human trafficking cases at the appellate court level – 13 appellate cases were opened in 2016, 23 appellate cases were opened in 2017, and 20 appellate cases were opened to date in 2018. There were also six appellate matters opened in 2015 that remained open into 2018, and one appellate matter opened in 2015 that remained open into 2017. Existing internal policies or protocols concerning human trafficking crimes are attached. We have redacted portions of the San Diego Human Trafficking Task Force (SD HTTF) Policies and Procedures Manual that relate to specific investigatory techniques, the disclosure of which would undermine the safety and efficacy of our special agents that conduct undercover investigations. The public interest in the disclosure of this information is clearly outweighed by the public interest in its disclosure and therefore exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. (Gov. Code, § 6255.) Lastly, an individual, stand-alone budget was not formulated for human trafficking crimes in particular. Instead, budgetary resources have been utilized from across the Department as a collection of expert personnel have been assigned to address these critical matters as needed. As part of our efforts, the DOJ participates in the SD HTTF, which includes staff from federal, county and city law enforcement agencies. The expenses for investigations, prosecutions and appeals of human trafficking crimes are generally supported by the General Fund and the overall budget of the Department, however the

							Department's Bureau of Investigation (BI) applied for funding under the 2015 COPS Anti-Gang Initiative Grant to combat gang involvement in human trafficking and was ultimately awarded $747,628. Documents responsive to your third request are attached. Attached please find the responsive records to your November 26, 2018, Public Records Act request. Specifically, you will find (1) the Modified Approved Budget for the COPS Anti-Gang Initiative Program, (2) the San Diego Human Trafficking Task Force (SDHTTF) Policy & Procedures (P&P) Manual, (3) Attachment A to the P&P, and (4) Attachment B to the P&P. These records follow the written response provided in my prior email. On December 6, 2018 an extension letter was sent by Marisa Kolm.
PRA - 2018 - 02346	Sloan-Hillier	Kiana	11/26/2018	"Hi, yes. Attorney Kiana Sloan-Hillier [REDACTED]. I am seeking the public record in case number B066399 People v Greenberger. This statutory directive is incorporated into the Public Records Act by Government Code section 6254, subdivision (k). The Clerk of the Court of Los Angeles County Superior Court, in which the legal proceedings were conducted, may be able to provide information concerning how to obtain transcripts of the proceedings. As per your records request, material from our file that we can produce to you includes the Clerk's Transcript, excluding the confidential probation reports; Appellant's Opening Brief; Respondent's Brief; the Court's Opinion and Remittitur, Petition for Review, Appellant's Reply Brief, Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, and other Orders of the Court. The total page count to fulfill this request is 10,703 pages. The cost of the requested records is $1,070.30, at 10 cents per page, plus postage $0.98, for a grand total of $1,071.28. Please make the check or money order payable to: Department

PRA - 2018 - 02445	Herring	Kimberly	11/26/2018	Blank form e-mailed to Public Records.		Completed	Erin Nickless Apologies for not getting back to you sooner. The form you submitted was blank, and had no information in it as to which records you are seeking. If you would like to resubmit your request for records from the California Department of Justice, you may reply to this email or use our online form. The online form located at https://oag.ca.gov/contact/publicrecords_form is the most direct and efficient way to submit your request. Please note, if your request is intended for all state agencies, or any agency besides the California Department of Justice, our office only responds to requests for records maintained by our Department. If you are seeking records from another government agency, you must submit your request to them directly.
PRA - 2018 - 02499	Fried	David	11/26/2018	Please provide copies of any electronic or tangible records concerning any inquiry or request by or related to the City of Livermore's amendment or modification of its card room ordinance, and created or obtained during this calendar year through the date of your response. All Records This request for public records encompasses any writing containing information relating to the conduct of the public's business prepared, owned, used, or retained by any state or local agency or official regardless of physical form or characteristics. See California Government Code § 6252(e). As used in this request and consistent with the California Public Records Act, "writing" means any handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostating, photographing, photocopying, transmitting by electronic mail, text message, or facsimile, and every other means of recording upon any tangible thing any form of communication or representation, including letters, words, pictures, sounds, or symbols, or combinations thereof, and any record thereby created, regardless of the manner in which the record has been stored. See California Government Code § 6252(g).		Completed	Riann Kopchak The Gambling Control Act provides that the Bureau "shall maintain a file of all applications for licenses" and that the file is "open to public inspection." (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (b).) The Act specifies that except as provided therein, the records of the Bureau are exempt from disclosure under the California Public Records Act. (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (c).) Business and Professions Code section 19821, subdivision (d), further specifies that it is unlawful for an official or employee of the Department to knowingly disclose or furnish records or information to a person not authorized by law to receive them, except as necessary for the administration of the Gambling Control Act. A review of your request suggests no applicable exception to the general exemption from disclosure under the Public Records Act set forth in Business and Professions Code section 19821, subdivision (c). For the foregoing reasons, your request for the described records under the Public Records Act is denied. (See also Cal. Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k).)

Please note a discrepancy between the two reports, specifically: the "2016 and 2017 GYRO" data shows one more restraining order for San Diego County and one less restraining order for San Bernardino County than the "2017 GYRO report." CLETS was established by the Legislature for the express purpose of permitting peace officers and law enforcement agencies to conduct official business via a secure telecommunications network. (Gov. PRA - 2018 - 0235 0	Charny (Complaint re: Gillingham)	Ben	11/28/ 2018	I would like to confirm that the Attorney General received a complaint alleging prosecutorial misconduct against Charles Gillingham, a Santa Clara County Deputy District Attorney while he was prosecuting People v. Ruben J. Mercado, Santa Clara County Superior Court No. 1490405. If you did receive a complaint, I would also like to know what if any investigation was conducted, and what if any determination the office made. I am an investigator for The State Bar of California. Any information you provide would be used, potentially, in a disciplinary matter.		Completed	Julia Y Je	This Office has no record of receiving a formal complaint by defense counsel involving DDA Charles Gillingham in relation to this case. Our Office received a recusal motion from defense counsel in late 2016, and we filed an opposition in early 2017. A copy of the opposition and supporting declarations is attached for your information. The attorneys assigned to the motion for recusal and to defendant's appeal have no recollection of any complaint being lodged with our Office by defense counsel in 2018. Our Office did not conduct any investigation of Mr. Gillingham. Please contact me should you have any further questions on this matter.

PRA - 2018 - 0235 2	Davis (Ready Ref Guides)	Jason	11/28/ 2018	All writings, as that term is defined in Evidence Code section 250, that constitute, refer, or relate to "Firearms Ready Reference" guides. It is our understanding that the Bureau of Firearms publishes and distributes a document entitled a "Firearms Ready Reference" for the purposes of distribution to law enforcement officers throughout the State of California. This guide was created to provide a simple and concise reference to law enforcement's application of California's firearm laws. "Firearms Ready Reference" may or may not be the exact title of the document, but this request includes any writings that were created, published and/or distributed by the Department of Justice to law enforcement as a simple and quick reference guide to California's firearm laws.		Compl eted	Public Record s	On December 27, 2018, our office responded: As a preliminary matter, in seeking "all writings ... that constitute, refer, or relate to" guides intended to be distributed to law enforcement as a guide to California Firearms Laws, without providing any limitations as to the time frame in which the documents might have been created, your request is overly broad. (Italics added.) The expense and inconvenience of engaging in such a limitless search of documents would not be in the public interest. (Gov. Code § 6255; American Civil Liberties Union Foundation v. Deukmejian (1982) 32 Cal.3d 440, 452-453.) As such, we must deny your request as currently cast. However, your comment indicates that the purpose of your request is to obtain documents "published and/or distributed by the Department of Justice to law enforcement as a simple and quick reference guide to California's firearm laws." As such, we performed a search for those sorts of documents and, having checked with knowledgeable persons and searched logical places, we have identified the two enclosed "Firearms Redi-Ref" guides, one from 1994 and one from 2009, and have attached pdfs of both. 2009 was the last year the Department prepared a "Firearms Redi-Ref" guide. The Department now makes information regarding firearms laws available to both the public and law enforcement agencies online. The following is a list of the information we provide that is most responsive to your request: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A "California Firearms Laws Summary" available at: https://oag.ca.gov/sites/all/files/agweb/pdfs/firearms/pdf/cfl2016.pdf. • Various Information Bulletins available at: https://oag.ca.gov/firearms/infobuls. Included in these are bulletins regarding "New and Amended Firearms/Weapons Laws." • A page on "Firearm Safety," which includes some general statements about California safe storage laws and is available at: https://oag.ca.gov/firearms/tips. • A list of "Firearms Prohibiting Categories," which contains citations to various state and federal laws that make it unlawful for certain persons to own and/or possess firearms: https://oag.ca.gov/sites/all/files/agweb/pdfs/firearms/forms/prohibcatmisd.pdf. • A "Firearm Safety Certificate" study guide, in English and Spanish, which includes a chapter on "Firearms Laws" and is available at: https://oag.ca.gov/sites/all/files/agweb/pdfs/firearms/forms/hscsg.pdf (in English). https://oag.ca.gov/sites/all/files/agweb/pdfs/firearms/forms/finalspanishbook.pdf (in Spanish). This completes our response to your November 28, 2018, request.

PRA - 2018 - 02354	Small (Death in Custody Reports)	Julie (KQED News)	11/28/2018	All in-custody deaths for all counties in California. 1. All death in custody reports submitted on Form BCIA 713 to the Department of Justice from the beginning of 2010 through the present date. 2. All death in custody annual summaries on inmates under jail jurisdiction submitted on form J-9A submitted to the to the Department of Justice from the beginning of 2007 through the present date. Dear California Department of Justice Ombudsman, Under the California Public Records Act § 6250 et seq I request the following information in electronic format for all in-custody deaths (excluding state prisons) for all counties in California. 1. All death in custody reports submitted on Form BCIA 713 to the Department of Justice from the beginning of 2010 through the present date. 2. All death in custody annual summaries on inmates under jail jurisdiction submitted on form J-9A submitted to the to the Department of Justice from the beginning of 2007 through the present date This request reasonably describes identifiable records, and I believe there exists no express provision of law exempting such records from disclosure. I ask that you make the record in electronic format. We can accept the data in a variety of electronic formats, from CSV to a SQL database. To the extent that a portion of the information I have requested is not immediately available, I request that whatever documentation is immediately available be turned over first. I am making this request as a representative of the news media. If there are any fees, I respectfully ask that you notify me of any costs before you fulfill the request. If my request is denied in whole or part, I ask that you justify all deletions by reference to specific exemptions of the law. I will also expect you to release all segregable portions of otherwise exempt material. I reserve the right to appeal your decision to withhold any information or deny a waiver of fees. Please contact me by phone or email if you have any questions about this request. I expect a response within 10 business days of this filing, as is required by state law. Thank you for your assistance. You are welcome to reach me on my cell phone at 415-531-8571 or by email jsmall@kqed.org<mailto:jsmall@kqed.org> Respectfully, Julie Small Criminal Justice Reporter, KQED News		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	The California Department of Justice (DOJ) responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency. In regard to item (1), please find the attachment titled Death in Custody, 2010-2018. Note, the DOJ only receives one form for Death in Custody reporting, which is entered into a database. In regard to item (2), the J-9A form is a federal form that county jails complete and send directly to the Federal Bureau of Investigation; therefore, the DOJ does not receive or retain this information.

Also, if applicable, please indicate if there are no responsive WRITINGS on file and the reason why.			Some of the responsive records are subject to withholding under the Act, on one or more of the following three bases. First, the attorney-work-product exception protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research, or legal theories, and that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the Act as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Records such as confidential analyses, draft language, and memoranda prepared by attorneys employed with the Office of the Attorney General are subject to the work-product exception and are consequently exempt from disclosure under the Act. Second, confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954, which protects confidential communications between attorney and client, are also expressly incorporated into the Act. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Roberts v. City of Palmdale (1993) 5 Cal.4th 363.) Attorneys in the Office of the Attorney General provide legal advice to the Attorney General and designees. All communications between the Attorney General or designees and attorneys in the Office of the Attorney General concerning representation in the Flanagan matter are confidential communications pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, and are exempt from disclosure under the Act. Third, a government agency may withhold from an Act request records pertaining to pending litigation to which the agency is a party until the pending litigation has been finally adjudicated or otherwise settled. (Gov. Code, § 6254 subd. (b).) The pending-litigation exemption does not duplicate the attorney-work-product exemption, but is broader and covers records prepared by the agency in anticipation of, or for use in, litigation. (County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court, supra, 82 Cal.App.4th at p. 831; Fairley v. Superior Court (1998) 66 Cal.App.4th 1414, 1422.) Except for responsive records withheld on one or more of those bases, the responsive records will be sent to you per your request. You requested that records be provided in their native electronic formats where applicable. The responsive records are in electronic format. We will be transferring records to a CD (or multiple CDs, if necessary), and we will send you the CD (or CDs) by U.S. mail. We estimate that the records will be ready to be sent to you on or around mid-January 2019, and will be mailed out around that time.

PRA - 2018 - 02401	Pedregon (CSULB records)	Henry	11/28/2018	As the Legislative Liaison on behalf of the Tribal Government of the Ancestral Tribe, Gabrieleno Band of Mission Indians Kizh Nation, we are requesting documentation on Cindi Alvitte as the NAGPRA coordinator at CSULB. Please provide any and all documents pertaining to her application, acceptance, appointment, and the criteria met for her appointment as a NAGPRA coordinator. A timely response is appreciated as mandated by the Public Records Request. Sirs, I sent the above Public Record Request to the administration at California State University at Long Beach and to their Public Request Liaison. It has been 21 days and there has yet to be a response. There has been no confirmation of receipt of the request nor has there been notification for additional time. In sending my request I did not receive any "undeliverable" returns. It appears the recipients are ignoring the request and may be in violation of the mandates of the Public Record Request Act. I request your office look into the reason CSULB is not in compliance. Thank you for any assistance you can provide. ADDITION TO THE ORIGINAL REQUEST; We also request a copy of the original posting for the position of the NAGPRA Coordinator at CSULB.		Completed	Erin Nickless	You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since you are seeking records related to one or more schools within the California State University (CSU) System, you may wish to direct your request to their office. Information on how to contact the offices of CSU can be found at https://www2.calstate.edu/Pages/contact.aspx. We hope this information has been of assistance. To the extent that you are requesting that the Department of Justice enforce the Public Records Act, when the Legislature enacted the Public Records Act in 1968, it provided several judicial remedies for persons who believed that they had been wrongfully denied records to which they were entitled. These remedies include the right to seek injunctive or declaratory relief or a writ of mandate in the Superior Court. (See Government Code sections 6258-6259.) Absent special circumstances, the Legislature did not envision an enforcement role for the Attorney General in connection with noncompliance under the Act. However, you may wish to consult with a private attorney to evaluate your options under the judicial remedies discussed above.

PRA - 2018 - 02356	Liu (handgun/Long gun dealer reports)	Tianwang	11/29/2018	I am a Ph.D. student in economics department at Harvard University, studying firearms industry. I saw that all dealers need to report their sales on both handgun and long gun. Is it possible to get access to these transaction data including the following information? For each transaction between 1980s and 2018, I am looking for: *seller license number *seller zipcode *buyer license number *buyer zipcode *buyer age, gender, and race *other buyer demographic information recorded *firearm type (pistol/revolver/rifle/shotgun) *firearm manufacturer *firearm model *firearm caliber *firearm price *other firearm information recorded, such as make, serial number, barrel length, gun surface finish Thank you very much for all your support and please let me know if you need further information.		Completed	Public Records We recommend that you contact our Research Center with your request, because it will probably be able to give you more data than you can get through a Public Records Acts request. The Department keeps the type data you seek as part of its general duty "to assist in the investigation of crime, the prosecution of civil actions by city attorneys ... , the arrest and prosecution of criminals, and the recovery of lost, stolen, or found property." (Pen. Code, § 11106, subd. (a)(1)(D).) California law limits with whom the Department can share much of this data to "officers referred to in [Penal Code section] 11105." Members of the public seeking records under the Public Records Act are not included on the list of persons contained in Penal Code section 11105. As such, the information we could provide you under the Public Records Act is very limited. (See Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k) [incorporating other disclosure prohibitions and exemptions into the Public Records Act].) In contrast, pursuant to Penal Code section 13202, every public agency or bona fide research body concerned with the prevention or control of crime, the quality of criminal justice or the custody of correction offenders may request Department data for research purposes. This is done by a request to our Research Center and would, if approved, result in you obtaining more information than what we can give you in response to a Public Records Act request. You can initiate a data request through this website: https://oag.ca.gov/research-center . If we do not receive a response from you indicating you would prefer to continue seeking this information via a Public Records Act request within 20 days, we will assume you are no longer seeking to obtain this information through our Public Records Act process.

PRA - 2018 - 0237 9	Anderson	Riley	11/29/ 2018	I am requesting access to the image documentation of myself (mug shot) , taken while being booked on my arrest on August 3, 2018. I NEED A PICTURE OF MY MUG SHOT TAKEN IN SACRAMENTO COUNTY JAIL, I STREET, SACRAMENTO, CA.		Compl eted	Jaimie Tackett	Unfortunately, the Department of Justice (DOJ) is unable to comply with your request. The DOJ maintains the Cal-Photo network and application, which provides law enforcement and criminal justice public agencies access to mugshot images maintained by California's law enforcement agencies, as well as a connection to the photographs and data maintained by the California Department of Motor Vehicles. Pursuant to the Cal-Photo Policies, Practices, and Procedures (PPP), information accessed via Cal-Photo is confidential and for official use only by authorized law enforcement personnel and the release of Cal-Photo information for non-law enforcement purposes is prohibited. This is due to the fact that Cal-Photo image records are a part of the California state summary criminal history records maintained by the DOJ, which are not public records. The DOJ responds only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of a local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency. In this instance, you may want to request the record from the law enforcement agency who took the picture.

This request potentially requires the production of records that exist or are maintained in electronic form, including but not limited to e-mails and chat/mobile phone messages. Records, including e-mails and other electronic records, are often subject to "retention" or "destruction" policies that require their automatic deletion at some point in time. If any records that are potentially responsive to this request are subject to such a retention or destruction policy, please prevent their deletion/destruction before you can locate, review and provide me with copies. For all records, please take all steps necessary to prevent the intentional or accidental destruction/loss of these records during the pendency of this request. I request that you confirm that you have placed a "litigation hold" on all responsive records and information.		Rollin g Produ ction	Public Record s	On January 7, 2019, Public Records Responded: To the extent that you are requesting any and all records that possibly make reference to Dr. Garen Wintemute, given the size of the Department, we must deny your request. The Department has offices in six different cities and employs hundreds of people. In order to respond to your request, each division of the Department, including each section, branch, unit or bureau would have to be canvassed, requiring each individual deputy attorney general or the head of each section, branch, unit or bureau, or staff thereof, to review each and every individual matter assigned to that deputy attorney general or the head of each section, branch, unit or bureau, or staff thereof, to determine if they have any documents referencing Dr. Wintemute. Further, such materials may not be maintained, indexed or categorized according to a single title or subject matter description, thus, requiring a more extensive search for such documents. The expense and inconvenience of engaging in such a limitless search of documents would not be in the public interest. (Gov. Code § 6255; American Civil Liberties Union Foundation v. Deukmejian (1982) 32 Cal.3d 440, 452-453.) As such, we deny this item of your request for records as cast, except as described in the following paragraphs. Based on the wording of your request, it appears that the primary purpose of your request is to obtain copies of (a) records we have sent to Dr. Garen Wintemute at the UC Davis Firearm Violence Prevention Research Center; and (b) correspondence transmitting those records. We checked with knowledgeable persons and searched logical places, and have identified emails with attachments that are responsive to this request. However, please note that the records we have provided Dr. Wintemute contain data derived from the California Restraining and Protective Order System ("CARPOS"). CARPOS is a statewide database for use by court clerks and law enforcement personnel designed to store information identifying persons named in restraining orders and is accessible via the California Law Enforcement Telscommunications System ("CLETS"). (Fam.

								Code,§ 6380.) CLETS was established by the Legislature for the express purpose of permitting peace officers and law enforcement agencies to conduct official business via a secure telecommunications network. (Gov. Code, §§ 15151-15153). Access to the telecommunications system utilized by law enforcement agencies, including the Department, is restricted by law. (Gov. Code, § 15152). Access to records relating to CLETS inquiries is similarly restricted. Confidentiality provisions like these are expressly incorporated into the PRA (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k)). As such, we must deny your request for records reflecting CARPOS data that the Department has provided Dr. Wintemute. Additionally, if an email between a Department employee and Dr. Wintemute contains elements of the confidential data at issue, it will be redacted. To the extent Dr. Wintemute has been granted access to CARPOS data, it has been pursuant to the California Firearm Violence Research Act, which expressly provides an exception that requires, "the Department of Justice [to] make information relating to gun violence restraining orders that is maintained in the California Restraining and Protective Order System, or any similar database maintained by the department, available to researchers affiliated with the University of California Firearm Violence Research Center." (Pen. Code, § 14231.5.) Researchers at the center then can only use the data "for academic and policy research purposes" and must take special precautions to ensure "that any material identifying individuals is not transferred, revealed, or used for other than research or statistical activities," and any "reports or publications derived therefrom shall not identify specific individuals." (Ibid.) We are reviewing the emails we have identified to make sure they do not contain any data we are prohibited sharing absent an exception like the one contained for researchers in the California Firearm Violence Research Act, and to make redactions accordingly. To the extent there are disclosable documents, we will provide them on or about February 4, 2019. On December 12, 2018, an extension letter was sent.

With the state of CA?	Completed	Jaimie Tackett	The California state summary criminal history records as maintained by the Bureau of Criminal Information and Analysis are not public records. Pursuant to California Penal Code (PC) section 11076, access to criminal history records is restricted to agencies that are statutorily authorized to receive such records. The only exception to this rule is an individual requesting his or her own records (PC sections 11120 through 11127). However, California PC section 290.46 requires the California Department of Justice (DOJ) to display on the Megan' s Law Internet site (www.MegansLaw.ca.gov) only that specific data mandated in the statute. Any requests submitted to the DOJ for additional information not displayed on the Internet site must be denied. If you desire to know more information about a specific sex offender and can independently identify the county in which he/she was prosecuted for an offense, you may be able to obtain that information by requesting it directly from the court of record. Locating such communications without knowing the specific department employee or officer who sent or received the communication would require we search every file. The Department has offices in six different cities and employs thousands of people. In order to respond to your request, each division of the Department, including each section, branch, unit or bureau would have to be canvassed, requiring each individual deputy attorney general or the head of each section, branch, unit or bureau, or staff thereof, to review each and every individual matter assigned to that deputy attorney general or the head of each section, branch, unit or bureau, or staff thereof, to determine if they have any communications with Eastern Riverside County Operable Communications Authority (ERICA) or any individuals listed above associated with the authority. Further, such materials may not be maintained, indexed or categorized according to a single title or subject matter description, thus, requiring a more extensive search for such documents. PRA-2018-02400	Bertanzetti (marriage records)	Traie	12/5/2018	Searching for a copy of marriage license. I got married to Steven Howard in Marina Del Ray years ago and need copy of certificate.		Completed	Erin Nickless To the extent that you are seeking birth, death, marriage, or divorce records, we must deny your request. The records you have requested are not in the custody or control of the DOJ. In general, certified copies of divorce decrees are available from the Superior Court in the county where the decree was granted. Some birth, death, marriage, or divorce records are available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. The OVR website is located at: https://www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CHSI/Pages/Birth%2C-Death%2C-Fetal-Death%2C-Still-Birth--Marriage-Certificates.aspx .
PRA-2018-02403	Hews (Cerritos News) (e-mails)	Brian	12/5/2018	Requesting any emails (with attachments) to anyone at the Department of Justice RECEIVED FROM: Stephanie Shimazu, Yolanda Morrow, Nathan Davalle, or Suzanne George from Sept. 2017 to the present regarding third party proposition players firms, player banked, California and Asian games, Pai Gao, Blackjack, casino style games. This is different than my Nov. 28 request in that I am asking for anyone at the DOJ who RECEIVED emails from the above-mentioned people.		Completed	Riann Kopchak Except as specifically provided in the Gambling Control Act, the records of the Bureau, a subdivision within the Department of Justice, are exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (c).) In addition, subdivision (d) of Business and Professions Code section 19821 makes it unlawful for an official or employee of the Department of Justice to knowingly disclose or furnish records or information to a person not authorized by law to receive them, except as necessary for the administration of the Gambling Control Act. A review of your request suggests no applicable exception to the general exemption from disclosure under the Public Records Act set forth above. (See also Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k) [incorporating confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law].) Accordingly, any records that would be responsive to your request are exempt from disclosure by the terms of the Public Records Act, pursuant to Government Code section 6254, subdivision (k). Your request for disclosure of these records is therefore denied.
PRA-2018-02404	Ananeh-Firempong (police reports)	Nanafre ma	12/5/2018	I am seeking a copy of a police report from the San Francisco PD. The date of the incident is 2/14/18 and parties involved were Dr. Alexander Firempong (my brother). The police site the privacy of the other involved party as why they will not release, but we are okay with receiving a redacted copy. My Brother, Dr. Alexander Owusu Firempong passed away earlier this year at the home of an ex girlfriend that he previously wanted to get a restraining order against. The San Francisco Medical Examiner ruled it a suicide that same day. However, our family does not believe this is the case as he was not suicidal. We spoke the night before, he had plans the following day, and was going out of town that weekend. We begged the police to investigate and they refused so we wanted to review the police report and see if there is anything there that we can cite. Any assistance in obtaining a redacted copy is appreciated.		Completed	Erin Nickless Police report records are maintained by the local department that generated the report. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of a local or another state agency, we suggest that you direct your request to that agency, in this case, the local police department where the incident took place.

PRA-2018-02409	Leda	Bernie	12/5/2018	Please list all firearms registered to Bernie H Leda Trying to comply with all current laws		Completed	Public Records the California Public Records Act. Any such records would be kept as part of the Attorney General's duties under Penal Code section 11106, subdivisions (a)(l) and (b)(l), to keep certain records that will "assist in the investigation of crime, the prosecution of civil actions by city attorneys ... the arrest and prosecution of criminals, and the recovery of lost, stolen, or found property," and to maintain a registry of firearms information reported to the Department. The categories of information kept by the Department pursuant to Penal Code section 11106, subdivision (a)(l), include records of firearms purchases from and sales to private individuals made by licensed firearms dealers. (See id. at subd. (a)(l)(D) & (E); see also Pen. Code, §§ 29605 & 27525, subd. (a).) Penal Code section 11106, subdivisions (a)(2) and (b)(3), limit the disclosure of the information DOJ collects under Penal Code section 11106, subdivisions (a)(l) and (b)(2), by specifying to whom the Department can provide that information. The information can be provided "upon proper application therefor ... to the officers referred to in [Penal Code section] 11105." (See Pen. Code, § 11106, subds. (a)(2) & (b)(3).) Members of the public making California Public Records Act requests are not identified on the list of officers in Penal Code section 11105. As such, we cannot provide you with the records you seek pursuant to a California Public Records Act request. (See also Cal. Const., art. I, § 1 [protecting California citizen's right to privacy].) Nevertheless, much of the information you seek I kely is available through other means. To obtain a list of firearms listed in your name, complete and submit an Automated Firearms System Records Request to the Automated Firearms Unit, P.O. Box 820200, Sacramento, CA 94203-0200. The request must be signed, notarized, and include a photocopy of your photo ID card (i.e., driver's license or :QMV ID). This form has been enclosed for your convenience.
PRA-2018-02410	Guerin	Emily	12/5/2018	I am seeking a 1969 report by the California Attorney General's office about land sales in California City, CA by a company called Great Western United (also known as: Great Western Cities, or California City Development Company). Also seeking any other records you may have about real estate sales in California City.		Completed	Erin Nickless Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. We have conducted a search of the DOJ's legal indexes, knowledgeable persons, and logical places and have been unable to locate any responsive records. If you have additional information on the documents you are seeking, please provide that to us. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) On December 17, 2018, we notified you that we were extending the date for responding to your request by 14 days, to December 31, 2018. On December 31, 2018, we notified you that we have disclosable public records that are responsive to your request and anticipated that we would make the first batch of responsive, non-exempt, records available to you on or about January 30, 2019. We will not produce records that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney-client privilege. Confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954, which protects confidential communications between the attorney and the client, are expressly incorporated into the CPRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Roberts v. City of Palmdale (1993) 5 Cal.4th 363.) In the present case, California Department of Justice attorneys provide legal advice to the Attorney General and his designees. Accordingly, all communications between the Attorney General or his designees and California Department of Justice attorneys concerning legal matters are confidential communications pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, and are exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. We will also not produce any records that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney work-product exemption. This exemption protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the CPRA as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. PRA-2018-02411	Goldberg (3rd Party Records)	Holly	12/6/2018	I request all public records related to Donald Edward McKinney (age 48), including criminal/court records, incarcerations, lawsuits, judgements, and liens/bankruptcy records. He currently lives in Santa Barbara, CA and used to live in Denver, CO, Arvada, CO, and Oxnard, CA.		Completed	Erin Nickless	Absent a request for representation, DOJ responds solely on its own behalf and not on behalf of other agencies. We have searched our records and legal indices and found no records responsive to your request. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. The scope of our records related to individual citizens is limited to matters that fall within our Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. For example, vital records such as birth, death, marriage, and divorce records may be available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. The OVR website is located at: https://www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CHSI/Pages/Birth%2C-Death%2C-Fetal-Death%2C-Still-Birth--Marriage-Certificates.aspx . They may also be available through the County Recorder or County Court, depending on the nature of documents sought. In the event that you are seeking criminal records, the Public Records Unit is unable to produce criminal history records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security .

PRA-2018-02413	Forbath (Towed Impounded Vehicles)	Aaron	12/6/2018	Please provide copies of all documents and records in possession or under control of the Department of Justice for the period between August 1st, 2015 and the present regarding the Department of Justice's tracking of vehicles towed and/or impounded by state and local agencies in California, including, but not limited to, records responsive to the queries below. 1. How many vehicles were ordered towed and/or impounded by local and state agencies in California each month between August 1st, 2015 and the present? 2. We would like to request records and data from the Department of Justice for all impounds and tows ordered by state and local agencies during the responsive period. Please provide any data and records that captures the following information: a. How many tows were authorized pursuant to California Vehicle Code section 22651(i)? b. How many tows were authorized pursuant to California Vehicle Code section 22651(k)? c. How many tows were authorized pursuant to California Vehicle Code section 22651(o)? d. How many tows did each state and local agency authorize every month during the responsive period?		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	To the extent that the California Department of Justice (DOJ) has the information you seek, it would be maintained in the Stolen Vehicles System, an on-line statewide database that maintains records that are of interest to law enforcement agencies. All of the information in the Stolen Vehicle System is exclusively entered and accessed via the California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS). CLETS was established for the express purpose of permitting peace officers and law enforcement agencies to conduct official business via a secure telecommunications network. (Gov. Code, §§ 15151-15153.) Accordingly, any information transmitted via CLETS to or from the Stolen Vehicles System is confidential and exempt from disclosure. Confidentiality provisions like these are expressly incorporated into the PRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k).) Although the above-request is generally exempt from disclosure, in an effort to be responsive, we conducted a search of any reports already compiled in the regular course of business since August 1, 2015, but have not been able to locate any responsive records as we do not process or store reports on towed/impounded vehicles on a regular (daily, weekly, monthly, yearly, etc.) basis. To the extent that you are requesting statistical data for individual offenses, this information is contained in the Automated Criminal History System and deemed criminal offender record information (CORI). Penal Code section 11076, explicitly outlined in Section 11105, provides that

				e. If possible, please break down the number of tows authorized by all state and local agencies based on the reason for the tow. f. If possible, please break down the number of tows authorized by all state and local agencies based on both the reason for the tow and the issuing agency. For all the data requested in item 2, we are requesting any reports already compiled in the regular course of business by your agency or any other authorized agent. If such reports don't contain all of the details in items 2, please send whatever information is available.			access to CORI is restricted to agencies that are statutorily authorized to receive such records. The Legislature has designated alternative access of CORI to bona fide researchers, as stipulated in Penal Code section 13202. If you are a bona fide research body and would like to request data through DOJ's research request process, complete the packet regarding policies and procedures that relate to accessing CORI, found here: https://oag.ca.gov/research-center/request-process. The document, Conditions for Release of Criminal Offender Record Information, must be reviewed and signed by the project lead/requester. When completed, email all required documentation to Researchrequest@doj.ca.gov. Once the packet is received, it will be reviewed and you will be notified if it is approved. The DOJ responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency.
PRA-2018-02414	McGreevy (DOJ employee settlements)	Patrick - LA Times	12/6/2018	February 27, 2019 follow up: My original request for settlements included the following request (see below) for copies of the actual settlement agreements. I was assured that would be provided. Can I please get those documents for the cases you identified yesterday? Also, how many other settlements for sexual harassment claims will be included in the March 11 records release you mentioned in your email yesterday? December 6, 2018 request: Could I please get a list of all settlements with state Department of Justice employees since Becerra took office in January 2017, including the name of the employee, the allegation and the amount paid. Also, generically, what is the Department of Justice's policy on training employees on sexual harassment issues before and after complaints are made against them?		Rolling Production	Milad Da ju February 27, 2019 response: Attached is a copy of the settlement agreements that were summarized in my February 25, 2019, response to your PRA request. Currently, I don't know how many more settlement agreements will be disclosed in future productions in response to your PRA request. February 25, 2019 response: This letter is in further response to your email request to the California Department of Justice dated December 6, 2018, in which you sought the following records pursuant to the California Public Records Act (CPRA), as set forth in California Government Code section 6250 et seq.: 1. A list of all settlements with state Department of Justice employees since January 1, 2010, including the name of the employee, the allegation and the amount paid. 2. Generically, what is the Department of Justice's policy on training employees on sexual harassment issues before and after complaints are made against them? Your request was received on December 6, 2018. On December 16, 2018, we notified you that we were extending the date for responding to your request by 14 days. On December 31, 2018, we notified you that we have disclosable public records that are responsive to your request and anticipated that we would make the first batch of responsive, non-exempt, records available to you on January 30, 2019. On January 30, 2019, we provided you with the first batch of responsive, non-exempt, records, and anticipated that the second batch of responsive, non-exempt, records would be available on or about February 13, 2019. Attached is the second batch of responsive, non-exempt, records. It is a summary of seven settlement agreements between the California Department of Justice and its employees that were finalized between January 1, 2010, and December 6, 2018. It does not include information from the personnel records of peace officers. The California Department of Justice employs peace officers pursuant to California Penal Code section 830.1, subdivision (b), and information from the personnel records of peace officers, including records of complaints, investigations, and discipline, are confidential. (Comptroller Press, Inc. v. Superior Court (2006) 39 Cal.4th 1272, 1284-1286; Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training v. Superior Court (2007) 42 Cal.4th 278, 289-290; Pen. Code, §§ 832.5, 832.7.) Thus, any records from the personnel records of a sworn peace officer of the California Department of Justice are exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k), incorporating Pen. Code, § 832.7.) We anticipate that the next batch of responsive, non-exempt, records will be available on or about March 11, 2019. If any records are withheld from any future production of records responsive to this request, we will provide an explanation for doing so with that production. January 30, 2019 response: Our response to each category of records you requested are as follows. Request 1: A list of all settlements with state Department of Justice employees since January 1, 2010, including the name of the employee,

							the allegation and the amount paid. In response to this request, we conducted a reasonable search for settlement agreements between the California Department of Justice and its employees that were finalized between January 1, 2010, and December 6, 2018, and are in the process of summarizing those records pursuant to your request. We anticipate that the list you requested will be available on or about February 13, 2019. If any records are withheld from any future production of records responsive to this request, we will provide an explanation for doing so with that production. Request 2: Generically, what is the Department of Justice's policy on training employees on sexual harassment issues before and after complaints are made against them? We found three records that are responsive to this request, and all three records are attached. We have not withheld any records or redacted any information responsive to this request. This completes our response to this request. On December 31, 2018, Milad Dalju responded: Your request was received on December 6, 2018. On December 16, 2018, this office notified you by letter that it was extending the date for responding to your request by 14 days, to December 31, 2018. We have determined that your request seeks disclosable public records in our possession. Any DHCS policy or procedure, regarding the California Public Records Act, directed to the Attorney General's Office for approval or modification. If you determine that any or all of the information qualifies for an exemption from disclosure, I ask you to note whether, as is normally the case under the Act, the exemption is discretionary, and if so whether it is necessary in this case to exercise your discretion to withhold the information. If you determine that some but not all of the information are exempt from disclosure and that you intend to withhold it, I ask that you redact it for the time being and make the rest available as requested.	Completed	Erin Nickless	Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. On December 7, 2018, our office extended the time to respond to your request. We have conducted a search of the DOJ's legal indexes, knowledgeable persons, and logical places and have been unable to locate any responsive records. If you have additional information on the documents you are seeking, please provide that to us. We note that your request relates to approval of another Department's procedures for processing Public Records Act requests. When the Legislature enacted the Public Records Act in 1968, it provided several judicial remedies for persons who believed that they had been wrongfully denied records to which they were entitled. These remedies include the right to seek injunctive or declaratory relief or a writ of mandate in the Superior Court. (See Government Code sections 6258-6259.) Absent special circumstances, the Legislature did not envision an enforcement role for the Attorney General in connection with noncompliance under the Act.

PRA-2018-02420	Goldstein, Esq.	Joseph	12/7/2018	I am a California attorney representing a party in litigation. I wanted to know on behalf of my client if an individual formerly employed by my client ever filed a Complaint with the California Department of Fair Employment and Housing. Specifically, I want to know if a Complaint was filed in 2015, 2016, 2017, or 2018. The individual's name is David Parry.		Completed	Maria E. Silva	Called requester to confirm the records he was requesting were DFEH. He confirmed and we explained he need to direct his request to the correct agency - DFEH.
PRA-2018-02421	Kearns (Eviction/CH/Debt Collection)	Lisa	12/7/2018	Eviction record , criminal record, collection debt		Completed	Erin Nickless	Absent a request for representation, DOJ responds solely on its own behalf and not on behalf of other agencies. We have searched our records and legal indices and found no records responsive to your request. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. The scope of our records related to individual citizens is limited to matters that fall within our Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since you are seeking eviction records, you may wish to direct your request to the local superior court in which the case was filed. For financial records, you should contact the financial institution from which you seek records. To the extent that you are seeking criminal records, the Public Records Unit is unable to produce criminal history records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security .
PRA-2018-02422	Schiano (Tear Gas)	Christopher - Muckrock News	12/7/2018	Any email sent or received by any employee of your agency between November 24, 2018 and November 27, 2018 which includes the keywords "tear gas" and/or "teargas".		Pending Production	Jennifer Lee	February 7, 2019 response: On December 17, 2018, we sent you a letter extending our time to respond to this request. On December 26, 2018 we sent you a letter stating our intent to produce responsive, non-exempt records to you on a rolling basis. The first group of such documents was attached to the e-mail transmitting this letter. Our search for and review of records that may be responsive to your request is ongoing. Please be advised that there may be responsive records that are exempt from disclosure in whole or in part under the deliberative process exemption, the investigative records exemption, the attorney work-product privilege exemption, and/or the attorney-client privilege exemption. Investigative Records Exemption: Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files of the Attorney General and the Department of Justice, the Office of Emergency Services, and any state or local police agency. (See Dick Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.) Investigative records do not lose their exempt status due to a failure to prosecute, or the close of an investigation. (Id. at p. 355 [While there may be reasons of

						policy that would support a time limitation on the exemption for investigatory files, such a limitation is virtually impossible to reconcile with the language and history of subdivision (f).].) Attorney Work-Product and Attorney-Client Privilege Exemption: Confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954 (which protects confidential communications between the attorney and the client) and the attorney work-product privilege contained in Code of Civil Procedure section 2018.030 (which protects any writing reflecting an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research, or legal theories that is maintained as confidential) are incorporated into the Public Records Act. Accordingly, communications between the Attorney General or his designees and the department's attorneys, and analyses prepared by those attorneys are privileged materials exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. Deliberative Process Exemption: The deliberative process privilege exempts from disclosure materials that would expose an agency's decision making process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion within the agency and thereby undermine the agency's ability to perform its functions. Even if the content of a document is purely factual, it is nonetheless exempt from public scrutiny if it is actually related to the process by which policies are formulated or, if it is inextricably intertwined with policymaking processes. I was told a good way to start was to see if she had any records on file. Thank you.	Completed	Jaimie Tackett	To the extent that you are inquiring into the whereabouts of a missing person, the Violent Crime Information Center (VCIC) within the Department of Justice (DOJ) maintains an automated computer system with active file information about missing persons, including information about children and adults. The system was established to assist Law enforcement agencies in responding to reports of missing persons. (Pen. Code, § 14200.) The information is not generally available to the public and therefore is exempt from disclosure pursuant to the PRA. However, after consulting with VCIC, the California Justice Information Services

							Division has determined that it has no responsive records for this request. As provided for by law, the Attorney General has discretion to determine the extent of information and the priority of cases to be included in the internet directory which is accessible to the public at: http://oag.ca.gov/missing. (Pen. Code, § 14201.6.) If available, the following types of information are generally provided: name (first, middle, last), nickname, gender, hair color, eye color, height, weight, date of birth, race, date last seen, agency, and report type (i.e., parental abduction, runaway, etc.) To the extent that you are seeking criminal history record information, unfortunately, the DOJ is unable to comply with your request. The California state summary criminal history records as maintained by the Bureau of Criminal Information and Analysis are not public records. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) section 11076, explicitly outlined in PC section 11105, access to criminal history records is restricted to agencies that are statutorily authorized to receive such records, or to the person who is the subject of the record. Court information through the appropriate county superior court is public record. The DOI responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency.

PRA-2018-02458	Bollag	Sophia	12/7/2018	- Any records of internal complaints about Larry Wallace or any other personnel in the Division of Law Enforcement since Jan. 1, 2011. - Any written policy describing how workplace complaints are handled at the Department of Justice.		Rolling Production	Milad Da ju January 30, 2019 response by Milad Dalju: Our response to each category of records you requested are as follows. Request 1: Any records of internal complaints about Larry Wallace since Jan. 1, 2011. We are withholding all records responsive to this request because Larry Wallace was a peace officer during his employment with the California Department of Justice. The California Department of Justice employs peace officers pursuant to California Penal Code section 830.1, subdivision (b), and information from the personnel records of peace officers, including records of complaints, investigations, discipline, advancement, appraisal, and election of benefits, are confidential. (Compley Press, Inc. v. Superior Court (2006) 39 Cal.4th 1272, 1284-1286; Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training v. Superior Court (2007) 42 Cal.4th 278, 289-290; Pen. Code, §§ 832.5, 832.7, 832.8.) Thus, records and information from the personnel file of a peace officer of the California Department of Justice are exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k), incorporating Pen. Code, § 832.7.) Request 2: Any records of internal complaints about any other personnel in the Division of Law Enforcement since January 1, 2011. We are in the process of reviewing records to determine if any are responsive to this request. We anticipate that the first production of responsive, non-exempt, records will be available on March 1, 2019. If any records are withheld from any future production of records responsive to this request, we will provide an explanation for doing so with that production. Request 3: Any written policy describing how workplace complaints are handled at the Department of Justice. We found four records that are responsive to this request, and all four records are attached. This completes our response to this request. December 31, 2018 response by Milad Da ju: Your request was received on December 7, 2018. On December 17, 2018, this office notified you by letter that it was extending the date for responding to your request by 14 days, to December 31, 2018. We have determined that your request seeks disclosable public records in our possession. We are in the process of gathering and reviewing responsive records. We anticipate that the first production of responsive, non-exempt, records will be available on January 30, 2019. If any records are withheld or redacted from documents responsive to your request, we will provide an explanation for doing so with that production. December 17, 2018 an extension was sent by Milad Dalju.

Wallace (or Lawrence J. Wallace, if records are listed as such) at the California Justice Department, including his start date, end date, salary (starting and all adjustments), performance reviews and promotion recommendations. We completed a reasonable search for these records and have attached all responsive records except that we have withheld records, and redacted information, from the personnel file of Larry Wallace because he was a peace officer during his employment with the California Department of Justice. The California Department of Justice employs peace officers pursuant to California Penal Code section 830.1, subdivision (b), and information from the personnel records of peace officers, including records of complaints, investigations, discipline, advancement, appraisal, and election of benefits, are confidential. (k), incorporating Pen. Code, § 832.7.) Request 2: Any disciplinary records of Larry J. Wallace where charges were sustained or discipline was imposed in the duration of his employment at the Department of Justice. We completed a reasonable search for these records and did not find any responsive records. Request 3: Any internal correspondence involving any of the following people: Kamala Harris, Nathan Barankin and/or Larry J. Wallace, that also includes mention of Danielle Hartley or workplace complaints regarding Larry J. Wallace. Attached are the responsive records we have found so far. We have redacted certain private identifying information, such as non-commercial addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers, along with other sensitive personal information such as social security numbers and credit card numbers based on considerations of personal privacy. (Cal. Const., art. I, §1, as incorporated into Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Gov. Completed	Erin Nickless	You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since it is indicated in your correspondence that you are seeking information on a specific property, you may wish to contact the local county assessor's office or recorder's office for the county in which the property resides. For financial records, you may be able to contact the financial institution through which the loan or mortgage referenced in your request was processed.
PRA-2018-02455	Powell	Timothy	12/9/2018	Response letter to DOJ form BOF 119 Law Enforcement Gun Release Application I am in need of a copy of the response letter to the above mentioned form. I had received the original approx 3-4 weeks ago, but at the time I was in the hospital. In the process of being discharged the letter was lost. So I am hoping I can retain a copy of the form to retrieve my firearm and have for my records. A hard copy can me mailed to the above address, or preferably be emailed to the above email address. I can be reached by phone @ [REDACTED]	Completed	Public Records	The law limits the persons with whom the Department may share information contained on a Law Enforcement Gun Release (LEGR) application. (See Pen. Code,§ 11106, subds. (c)(l)(G). & (c)(2).) Because the PRA exempts any records "the disclosure of which is exempted or prohibited pursuant to federal or state law" from its disclosure requirements, any records created using information taken from a LEGR application are exempt from disclosure under the PRA. (Gov. Code,§ 6254, subd. (k).) On this basis, we deny your request. It is unclear from you request if you would still like a copy of the LEGR authorization letter for your own records, or if you only want one you can submit to a law enforcement agency or court that currently has possession of the firearm you wish to have returned to you. If the former is the case, please follow the steps described in the next paragraph, and contact the Bureau of Firearms Customer Support Center at the number provided below and request that a copy be resent to the address to which we sent the original copy. We would not send a copy of the letter, if it exists, to another address or via email because these authorizations are sought and issued using procedures that allow the Department to verify your identity and protect your privacy. If the latter is the case, because LEGR authorization letters expire after 30 days, and because your request suggests the letter you seek would have been issued in November 2018, that authorization would have since expired. To obtain a valid letter you would need to complete a new LEGR application.

If I am unable to get it from his file, can I bring the test tube with me to visit, and have him spit in it? Please advise.	Completed	Marisa Kolm	We cannot determine from the information provided in your request if your brother's DNA has been submitted to the Department. To the extent that those records may exist, the Department would be unable to comply with your request for records relating to your brother's CAL-DNA Data Bank Program forensic DNA profile. California Penal Code section 299.5(a) exempts DNA Data Bank Program records from disclosure under the California Public Records Act. Significant criminal and civil penalties could be imposed upon Department of Justice employees for violating these disclosure restrictions. DNA Data Bank records also qualify as Department of Justice "intelligence information," and are thus exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f). (See American Civil Liberties Union Foundation v. Deukmejian (1982) 32 Cal.3d 440, 449-450 [interpreting "intelligence information" to include personal identification information].) Finally, the type of information you request constitutes privileged official information within the meaning of Evidence Code section 1040. That provision similarly prevents its disclosure.

Completed	Milad Dalju	January 30, 2019 response: Your request was received on December 11, 2018. On December 21, 2018, this office notified you by letter that it was extending the date for responding to your request by 14 days. On January 7, 2019, we notified you by letter that we have disclosable public records that are responsive to your request and anticipated that we would make the first batch of responsive, nonexempt, records available to you on January 30, 2019. We have completed our search and found responsive records, which are attached. We have redacted certain private identifying information, such as non-commercial addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers, along with other sensitive personal information such as social security numbers and credit card numbers based on considerations of personal privacy. (Cal. Const., art. I, §1, as incorporated into Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Gov. Code, § 6255.) We also redacted the name of DOJ Special Agents because the public interest served by not disclosing such information clearly outweighs the public interest in disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6255.) The DOJ employs peace officers as provided in Penal Code section 830.1, subdivision (b). The DOJ's primary law enforcement function is to conduct covert and overt criminal investigations. As part of their duties, DOJ Special Agents work undercover assignments to develop sources of information and intelligence to accomplish organizational objectives. Releasing the names and other identifying information of these peace officers would compromise their safety and efficacy, and therefore the DOJ's ability to conduct undercover investigations. This completes our response to this request. December 21, 2018 an extension was sent by Milad Dalju.

The timeline for this request is from January 2011 to March 2017. The scope of this request is inclusive of any common variations of the name Larry Wallace.	Completed	Milad Dalju	February 27, 2019 Response: ...Your request was received on December 11, 2018. On December 21, 2018, this office notified you by letter that it was extending the date for responding to your request by 14 days. On January 7, 2019, we notified you by letter that we have disclosable public records that are responsive to your request and anticipated that we would make the first batch of responsive, non-exempt, records available to you on January 30, 2019. On January 30, 2019, we provided you with the first batch of responsive, non-exempt, records, and anticipated that any additional responsive, non-exempt, records we found would be available on or about February 13, 2019. We have completed our search for personnel records related to Larry Wallace's employment with the California Department of Justice. Other than the records we provided to you on January 30, 2019, all responsive records are exempt from disclosure because Larry Wallace was a peace officer during his employment with the California Department of Justice. The California Department of Justice employs peace officers pursuant to California Penal Code section 830.1, subdivision (b), and information from the personnel records of peace officers, including records of complaints, investigations, discipline, advancement, appraisal, and election of benefits, are confidential. The expense and inconvenience of engaging in such a limitless search for and review of documents would not be in the public interest. (Gov. Code, § 6255; American Civil Liberties Union Foundation v. Deukmenjian (1982) 32 Cal.3d 440, 452-453.) Consequently, we decline to search for records responsive to your request as it is currently cast. PRA-2018-02461	Blonien (Gambling license apps)	Jarhett	12/12/2018	1. All initial state gambling license applications submitted by Patrick Tierney.	Completed	Riann Kopchak	Business and Professions Code section 19821, subdivision (c), specifies that except as provided in the Gambling Control Act (Act), the records of the Department-1 are exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. In addition, subdivision (d) of Business and Professions Code section 19821 makes it unlawful for an official or employee of the Department to knowingly disclose or furnish records or information to a person not authorized by law to receive them, except as necessary for the administration of the Act. The Department's Bureau does, however, maintain "applications for licenses" under the Act that are available for public disclosure per subdivision (b) of Business and Professions Code section 19821. -1 The term "Department" as used in the Act is defined as the Department of Justice. (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19805, subd. (b); see also Gov. Code, § 15001.1 ["The Department of Justice is responsible for investigation and enforcement of controlled gambling activity in this state as set forth in the Gambling Control Act"]. Accordingly, subject to the redactions detailed below, the Bureau is enclosing copies of the license applications described in your request. The license applications required redactions of the following personal information that is exempt from disclosure: residence address, home phone number, personal cellphone number, applicant birth date, and social security number. This personal information has been redacted in accordance with Government Code sections 6255, subdivision (a), and 6254, subdivision (c) ("personnel, medical, or similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy"). The public interest served by not disclosing this personal information clearly outweighs the public interest served by its disclosure since this information is protected by the strong public policy set forth in California Constitution article I, section 1 - the right of privacy - yet is of minor significance for legitimate uses. Identity theft and similar serious crimes often rely on such personal information. Non-disclosure of the personal information not exempt from disclosure by subdivision (c) of Government Code section 6254 is therefore exempt from disclosure in accordance with Government Code section 6255, subdivision (a). The decisions described herein with respect to the requested records have been made by Staff Services Manager Riann Kopchak and Deputy Attorney General Derry Knight.

Most of the information provided by registering sex offenders during the registration process is confidential (i.e., not open to public inspection). (Pen. Code, § 290.021.) The same is also true for "the California Sex Offender database" kept in the Department of Justice's California Sex and Arson Registry ("CSAR"). Additionally, the PRA expressly exempts from disclosure documents that are private in nature, as well as documents that are investigatory in nature. (Gov't Code §§ 6254, subds. (c) and (f).) To the extent your request seeks information that is confidential in nature, within the meaning of Penal Code section 290.021 or other state statute, your request is denied. However, despite the confidential nature of this information, California provides members of the public with limited access to some of the sex offender registration information via the Megan's Law internet web site. Specifically, Penal Code section 290.46 provides that "the Department of Justice shall make available information concerning persons who are required to register pursuant to Section 290 to the public via an Internet Web site as specified in this section." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, subd. (a)(l), italics added.) The information posted on the Megan's Law web site is the only information that is available to the public. On December 24, 2018, this office notified you that it was extending the deadline for responding to your request by 14 days. On January 8, 2019, we notified you that we have disclosable public records that are responsive to your request and anticipated that we would make the first production of responsive, non-exempt, records available to you on or about January 30, 2019. We are withholding records, and redacting information, that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney-client privilege. Confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954, which protects confidential communications between an attorney and client, are expressly incorporated into the CPRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Roberts v. City of Palmdale (1993) 5 Cal.4th 363.) In the present case, California Department of Justice attorneys provide legal advice to the Attorney General and his designees. Accordingly, all records pertaining to confidential communications between the Attorney General or his designees and California Department of Justice attorneys concerning Danielle Hartley's lawsuit against the California Department of Justice are confidential pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, and are exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. We are also withholding records that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney workproduct exemption. This exemption protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the CPRA as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Records such as confidential analyses, draft language and memoranda prepared by California Department of Justice attorneys or at their direction are subject to the attorney work-product exemption and are consequently exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. We are also withholding records that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the deliberative process privilege, which exempts from disclosure materials that would expose an agency's decision making process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion within the agency and thereby undermine the agency's ability to perform its functions. Even if the content of a document is purely factual, it is nonetheless exempt from public scrutiny if it is actually related to the process by which policies are formulated or, if it is inextricably intertwined with policymaking processes. (Times Mirror Co. v. Superior Court (1991) 53 Cal.3d 1325.) Records that reveal deliberative processes are protected through application of Government Code section 6255. All records responsive to your request that are not exempt from disclosure as asserted above are attached to this letter. This completes our response to your request.

PRA-2018-02469	Rose	Laura	12/12/2018	Id like to request all my personal records from the years 2000-2018		Completed	Erin Nickless Absent a request for representation, DOJ responds solely on its own behalf and not on behalf of other agencies. We have searched our records and legal indices and found no records responsive to your request. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. The scope of our records related to individual citizens is limited to matters that fall within our Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. For example, vital records such as birth, death, marriage, and divorce records may be available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. The OVR website is located at: https://www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CHSI/Pages/Birth%2C-Death%2C-Fetal-Death%2C-Still-Birth--Marriage-Certificates.aspx. They may also be available through the County Recorder or County Court, depending on the nature of documents sought. In the event that you are seeking criminal records, the Public Records Unit is unable to produce criminal history records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security.

PRA-2018-02495	Bryant	Shelley	12/12/2018	Pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act and California Public Records Act (Government Code Section 6250 et seq.), I ask to obtain a copy of the following, which I understand to be held by your agency:	Bryant Whitten LLP	Completed	Jaimie Tackett The California Department of Justice (DOJ) responds to this request only with regard to its own records. As we charge $15 for each transaction, the total amount of those fees equates to $13,005.
PRA-2018-02471	Perman	Stacy	12/13/2018	My name is Stacy Perman and I am a reporter with the Los Angeles Times. I'm emailing you because I want to request an electronic copy of the Megan's Law database.	LA Times	Completed	Jennifer Binger	Unfortunately, we must deny your request for the following reasons: (1) Public access to confidential sex offender registration information is controlled by Megan's Law which, for database integrity reasons, limits such access to real-time internet searches on the Megan's Law web site; and (2) Given the constantly changing nature of the Megan Law's database, the public's interest is best served by limiting public access to confidential sex offender registration information that is accurate and up-to-date. Megan's Law Provides for Internet Access Only Most of the information provided by registering sex offenders during the registration process is confidential (i.e. not open to public inspection). (Pen. Code, § 290.021.) The same is also true for "criminal offender record information" kept in the Department of Justice's California Sex and Arson Registry ("CSAR;"). Additionally, the PRA expressly exempts from disclosure documents that are private in nature, as well as documents that are investigatory in nature. (Gov't Code §§ 6254, subds. (c) and (t).) To the extent your request seeks information that is confidential in nature, within the meaning of Penal Code section 290.021 or other state statute, your request is denied. However, despite the confidential nature of this information, California provides members of the public with limited access to some of the sex offender registration information via the Megan's Law internet web site. Specifically, Penal Code section 290.46 provides that "the Department of Justice shall make available information concerning persons who are required to register pursuant to Section 290 to the public via an Internet Web site as specified in this section." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, subd. (a)(1), italics added.) The statute further requires the department to "update the Internet Web site on an ongoing basis." (Ibid.) As mentioned in the notes to this code section, the Legislature created the Megan's Law web site with the intent "that the Department of Justice [would] continue to maximize all available resources to ensure the highest degree of accuracy in the sex registration database." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2004 ch. 745, § 2.) Additionally, the Legislature enacted Megan's Law with the intent that "California's infrastructure for collecting, maintaining, and disseminating information about registered sex offenders [would] -be retooled to ensure that law enforcement and the public have access to accurate, up-to-date, and relevant information about registered sex offenders." (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2006 ch. 337, § 2, subd. (c), italics added.) Thus, in order to help ensure and maintain the accuracy of this information, the Legislature limited the public dissemination of sex offender registration information to the Megan's Law web site. The information posted on the Megan's Law web site is the only information that is available to the public. Thus, any requests submitted to the Department of Justice for additional information not displayed on the Internet site must be denied. The Public Interest is Best Served by Limiting Access to Current and Accurate Information In your request, you state you are looking for "an electronic copy of the

						Megan's Law database". The information that appears on the Megan's Law web site is processed through a third-party vendor. The purpose of the web site is to provide members of the public access to the most current sex offender registrant data. Thus, the site, which is updated daily to reflect any new additions, deletions, and modifications to the registrant database, stores and displays only the current day's data, and does not disclose historical sex offender registration information. The Offender Registration Application Unit ("ORAU") is the internal unit within the Department of Justice that provides technology support and maintenance for CSAR, the State's repository for sex and arson registration information. Every day, ORAU creates a file which contains a snapshot of the registration data for that day. Our vendor then downloads that file from our site and stores the file on the hard drive of the server that creates the files used for the web site. Specifically, our vendor runs a program that takes that day's data and completely recreates the data files that are used by the web servers to provide the data to the public. Our vendor does not employ any database for this process, only temporary ISAM files. No transaction or other record keeping measures are utilized. The previous day's data on the web servers is overwritten with the new data. The data is also overwritten on the computer where these daily data files are created. On our end, ORAU keeps a backup for seven days of the extract file that is sent to our vendor. However, the information on the backup files is not a mirror image of what appears on the public web site because it contains information that is excluded from public view during our vendor's processing of the information. Additionally, even if our vendor reprocessed the information from one of the backup files, we could not ensure the accuracy of all the information because of the ever-changing nature of the registration database. In other words, because the registration database changes on a daily basis (i.e., newly added registrants, newly removed registrants, and changes to registrant's data) even a delay of one day would result in a report that contained inaccurate data. Such results do not comply with the Legislature's stated intent "that the Department of Justice ... ensure the highest degree of accuracy in the sex registration database" (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2004 ch. 745, § 2) and "ensure that ... the public have access to accurate, up-to-date, and relevant information about registered sex offenders" (Pen. Code, § 290.46, Stats. 2006 ch. 337, § 2, subd. (c)). Due to the constantly changing nature of the information in the registry, a "snapshot" view of the information for any given day of the Megan's Law web site would almost certainly be obsolete the following day. In other words, the day-old "snapshot" would contain some information that should have been removed, and it would be missing other information that should have been added. Given the sensitive nature of the information at issue, we cannot allow such inaccurate records to exist. The problem is further compounded by the fact that if we provide a "snapshot" for one member of the public we have to provide a "snapshot" to every member of the public that requests it. In doing so, we would be creating a situation wherein an untold number of inaccurate "snapshots" of the database would exist. Furthermore, given the highly sensitive nature of sex offender registration information, providing the public with inaccurate information could cause real public safety concerns. For instance, if registration information is disseminated about a person who is no longer required to register or be posted on the web site, or someone who registered upon entering the state and was later advised that he or she did not have a duty to register as a sex offender in California, that person may be subjected to undue harassment or even danger. As every day goes by, the obsolescence of the report and the inaccuracies contained within it continue to grow. Finally, we receive a multitude of similar requests from members of the public, especially broadcast and print media outlets. Depending on the volume and requested frequency (i.e., daily, weekly, monthly) of such requests if we were required to produce sex offender registration database information, the additional time and work required for responding to the requests could have a dramatic impact on our ability to successfully perform the core functions of CSAR, which in turn could affect public safety.

PRA-2018-02481	Raboin	Ronald	12/13/2018	On March 16 2018, I was the victim of an assault and battery by two co-workers that occurred on the job in the city of El Centro, California. Deputy Baragon arrived at the scene and recorded statements from myself and others, using "body cam" technology. While in shock and traumatized by the attack, I declined to file charges. Aware that I had a 1year SOL, I contacted Deputy Baragon and requested a police report of the incident. He informed me that he did not file an incident report but at my request he could generate a report from said body cam footage. However he claimed I would require a request from my lawyer to do so. My lawyer suggested I file a PRA request. In response to his suggestion I am requesting said report and the Body Cam footage. I will be filing charges and a personal injury lawsuit as remedy for the injury sustained during the attack. PRA-2018-02488	Bassi (DA Jeff Rosen)	Susan (Media)	12/13/2018	This is a formal records request under California's Public Records Act. I am seeking all records that would be considered public records held by the AG on the Santa Clara County District Attorney's Office. The time period of this request is from 2006- production and specifically includes records related to the 2010 campaign of DA Jeff Rosen, and all records subject to production based on the closed investigation of Jeff Rosen's office for conduct related to misappropriation of public funds in and around 2012 and 2013. Any findings, press releases, expense documents, campaign information or other records		Completed	Chris Knudsen	On January 4, 2019, Chris Knudsen responded: As a preliminary matter, in seeking "all records that would be considered public records held by the AG" relating to the Santa Clara County District Attorney's Office from 2006 to the present, your request is overly broad. The expense and inconvenience of engaging in such a limitless search of documents would not be in the public interest. (Gov. Code§ 6255; American Civil Liberties Union Foundation v. Deukmejian (1982) 32 Cal.3d 440, 452-453.) As such, we must respectfully deny your request as currently cast. From an investigation of prior media stories I understand the DA was investigated in May of 2013, and there may have been other investigations and reports which are concluded where the records would be subject to production. I am currently in a poor cell phone service area but will call back if you would like to email me a number to contact. This request is urgent based on an active media investigation. Thank you .			those related to the 2013 investigation discussed below. However, if you have a more specific request, please submit a new Public Records Act request. Your request specifically references the 2013 investigation of the District Attorney's Office. As an initial matter, we note that the Department is responding to this request on its own behalf and not on behalf of any other agency. If you wish to review records that are in the possession, custody or control of another agency, such as the County of Santa Clara, we suggest that you direct your request to them. For the reasons set forth below, we must also respectfully deny this part of your request: 1. Investigative Records Are Exempt From Disclosure The records that you seek constitute records of a confidential investigation by the office of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) expressly exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files of the Attorney General including complaints about unlawful practices. (See, Dick Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.) Investigative records do not lose their exempt status due to a failure to prosecute, or the close of an investigation. (Id. at p. 355 [While there may be reasons of policy that would support a time limitation on the exemption for investigatory files, such a limitation is virtually impossible to reconcile with the language and history of subdivision (f).]) 2. Attorney-Client Privileged Records Are Exempt From Disclosure The records that you are seeking are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney-client privilege. Confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954 which protects confidential communications between the attorney and the client, are expressly incorporated into the Public Records Act. (Gov. Code § 6254, subd. (k); Roberts v. City of Palmdale (1993) 5 Cal.4th 363.) In the present case, the County of Santa Clara retained the Attorney General's office to complete an investigation relating to the granting of administrative leave. An employment attorney was assigned to complete the investigation and that attorney was required to use her legal expertise to identify, analyze, and evaluate the pertinent facts. The attorney-client privilege extends to situations where an attorney conducts a factual investigation for a client. (City of Petaluma v. Superior Court (2016) 248 Cal.App.4th 1023 (review denied).) 3. Attorney Work Product Is Exempt From Disclosure Additionally, the attorney work product exception protects the confidentiality of any writing or other document that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc. section 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the Public Records Act as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, section 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Records such as confidential analyses, draft language and memoranda prepared by the attorneys employed with the Attorney General's Office are subject to the work product exception and are consequently exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. Similarly, the documents gathered and questions asked of witnesses reflect her approach, thought processes, and mental impressions. 4. Private Records Are Exempt From Disclosure Government Code Section 6254, subdivision (c) makes exempt personnel, medical, or similar files the disclosure of which would cause an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The request is also denied to the extent it seeks private and confidential information. 5. The Public Interest Served By Not Disclosing These Records Clearly Outweighs The Public Interest Served by Disclosure. The investigation files are exempt and privileged, but we also note that withholding is appropriate under Section 6255 of the Government Code. Under the facts of this particular case, the public interest served by not disclosing the records clearly outweighs the public interest served by disclosure of the records. There is a significant public interest in not disclosing documents and other information gathered during a confidential investigation. Keeping documents provided to the investigator confidential preserves the integrity of the investigation process; it encourages witnesses and other entities to cooperate during an investigation. If the documents or other information provided during an investigation were subject to public disclosure, it would be much less likely that witnesses and others would fully cooperate with investigators. Any public interest in disclosure is outweighed by the significant public interest in ensuring that investigations are kept confidential and so encourage agencies to investigate workplace matters and to also encourage witnesses to speak to investigators freely and provide necessary documents and other information. December 21, 2018 an extension was sent by Chris Knudsen, EAM SAAG.

PRA-2018-02492	Dillon (Prison Legal News) (death in custody)	Michelle	12/13/2018	I am requesting, pursuant to the California Public Records Act (Gov. Code § 6250-6276.48 et seq.), inspection of the following records in the possession or control of the California Department of Justice: Non-medical records that include or list the deaths of any inmates at the CoreCivic-operated California City Correctional Center, Florence Correctional Center, La Palma Correctional Center, Leo Chesney Correctional Facility, North Fork Correctional Facility, Red Rock Correctional Center, and Tallahatchie County Correctional Facility, as well as any other facilities in California not named in the previous list which are operated by CoreCivic under contract with California, from the date that California first began housing state prisoners at each facility to the present, which include the information described below for each such death. This request includes records from the listed facilities even if that contract is no longer active or even if the facility has since closed. We are aware that CoreCivic was previously known as CCA/Corrections Corporation of America. We request that any search for these records be comprehensive in regard to those name changes. The intent of this records request is to establish a list of all inmates who have died while in CoreCivic's custody at the above-referenced facilities. For the purpose of this request, "in CoreCivic's custody" means the death occurred at the CoreCivic-operated facility or immediately after an inmate was transported to a hospital or other medical center or medical prison from the CoreCivic-operated facility, where the proximate cause of death occurred or originated at the CoreCivic-operated facility. I am seeking records for each such death that include: 1) the name of the decedent inmate, 2) the date of death, 3) the facility where the death occurred and 4) the nature of the death if known — e.g., suicide, homicide, accident, natural causes, medical-related, etc. With respect to the nature of death, I am only seeking such information that is included in non-medical records maintained by the California Department of Justice; I am not seeking a death certificate, autopsy or medical examiner's report. If it would be more convenient for the California Department of Justice staff when responding to this public records request, a spreadsheet that lists the requested information would be sufficient. If this public records request is denied in whole or in part, please notify me promptly and provide the specific exemptions you are claiming under California Public Records Act (Gov. Code § 6250-6276.48 et seq.) or other statutory authority. The information requested is segregable; if you claim an exemption for any of the requested documents, please promptly produce those for which you do not claim an exemption.		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	Death in Custody & Arrest-Related Deaths data is available to the public on OpenJustice, a transparency initiative led by the California Department of Justice (DOJ) that publishes criminal justice data so that the DOJ can understand how it's doing, hold itself accountable, and improve public policy to make California safer. http://www.openjustice.doj.ca.gov/. California law enforcement agencies report to the DOJ information on any death that occurs while an individual is: (1) in the process of arrest; (2) killed by use of force by law enforcement; (3) in the temporary custody of a law enforcement agency; or (4) incarcerated in a city, county, or state correctional facility. The DOJ responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency. We received your message about narrowing our request for records regarding the California Department of Justice's use of "hacking" techniques in law enforcement investigations. You can reach us today at 847-757-1199, or we'd be happy to set up a time to talk at your convenience sometime this week. Thanks so much for your time and assistance. December 13, 2019 request: We are attorneys with the American Civil Liberties Union and the American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California Foundation ("ACLU"). This is a request under the California Public Records Act (California Government Code § 6250 et seq.). We seek records' regarding the California Department of Justice's acquisition and use of "hacking" techniques as part of its law enforcement investigations. With hacking techniques or software, the Department may, among other things, remotely access or perform forensic analysis on electronic devices such as phones or computers that belong to members of the public. 1 Throughout this request, the term "records" includes but is not limited to any paper or electronic information, reports, evaluations, memoranda, correspondence, letters, emails, charts, graphs, flyers, meeting agendas, meeting minutes, training materials, diagrams, forms, DVDs, tapes, CDs, notes, or other similar materials. 2 For purposes of all requests herein, the phrases "hacking," "hacking technique," and "equipment, software and/or technology that implements or facilitates hacking" have their ordinary meanings and include (but are not limited to): techniques that have been described using terms such as "Network Investigation Technique" or "NIT," "Computer Network Exploitation" or "CNE," "Computer and Internet Protocol Address Verifier" or "CIPA V," "Internet Protocol Address Verifier" or "IPA V", "Remote Access Search and Surveillance" or "RASS," "Remote Computer Search," "Remote Access Search," "Remote Search," "Web Bug," "Sniffer," "Computer Tracer," "Internet Tracer," "Remote Computer Trace," or "lawful access" tool; techniques that enable the bypass of encryption, passwords, or other security features in order to facilitate searches or seizures of information stored on computers, laptops, or mobile devices; software commonly described as malware, spyware, trojans, worms, or viruses; and/or relevant commercially available equipment, software and/or technology, including but not limited to: Remote Control System a.k.a. RCS or Galileo (marketed by Hacking Team); Finfisher, FinFisher Relay, FinSpy, and FinFly (marketed by Lench IT Solutions); Pegasus (marketed by NSO Group), Cellebrite's Advanced Unlocking & Extraction Services, XRY, Oxygen Forensic Please provide copies of records created from July 1, 2016 to the present relating to or reflecting: (1) The California Department of Justice's acquisition of		documents to determine if any portion of them might require redaction. And on January 17, 2019, we produced 10 documents related to training programs provided by the DOJ to law enforcement regarding basic forensic examination of cellular phones. In that letter, we stated that we were continuing to review thousands of potentially responsive documents, and that we would produce the next batch of responsive, nonexempt documents by February 1, 2019. On January 29, 2019, I spoke with Kara Brandeisky regarding the scope of your request. During the phone call and in the attached email, Ms. Brandeisky confirmed that you were narrowing your request to only those records related to tools used by DOJ to access data from devices remotely, and that you did not seek records related to "forensic tools that allow law enforcement to access data from devices" already in their physical possession. We have consulted with knowledgeable persons and can now confirm that DOJ does not remotely access any computers, mobile devices, or other electronic devices outside of DOJ's network, for investigation, training, or any other purpose. Therefore, DOJ does not have any documents that would be responsive to your narrowed Public Records Act request. January 17, 2019 response sent by Anthony O'Brien: On December 21, 2018, we extended the time to respond to your request to January 7, 2019. (Gov. Code, § 6253, subd. (c); Code Civ. Proc., §§ 10, 12a, 135.) On January 7, 2019, we responded to your request, stating that the request seeks disclosable public records in our possession, and that we are continuing to review those documents to see if any portion of them might be subject to redaction. In that letter, we stated that we anticipated producing responsive, non-privileged, non-exempt records by Thursday, January 17, 2019. Pursuant to the letter dated January 7, 2019, please find attached disclosable documents responsive to your requests. Our office identified these documents as responsive to your request because they relate to training programs provided by the Department of Justice to law enforcement on conducting basic forensic examinations of cellular phones. Production of these documents should not be construed as an admission or acknowledgement that the Department of Justice utilizes "hacking" techniques as defined in your request or trains other law enforcement personnel on such "hacking" techniques. Our office has redacted references to specific serial numbers of those products purchased by the Department of Justice. It is our understanding that these serial numbers, or variations thereof, are frequently used as online account numbers, thereby posing a security risk to the law enforcement agency accounts. Therefore, the public interest in not disclosing these specific serial numbers clearly outweighs any public interest in disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6255, subd. (a).) In addition to the attached documents, our search in response to your request has identified thousands of potentially responsive documents. Our office is continuing to review those documents to determine if they are in fact responsive to your request, and whether they are otherwise exempt from disclosure. We will produce any responsive, non-exempt documents on a rolling basis, with the next set of documents to be produced by February 1, 2019. January 7, 2019, an update was sent by Anthony O'Brien: On December 21, 2018, we extended the time to respond to your request to January 7, 2019. (Gov. Code, § 6253, subd. (c); Code Civ. Proc., §§ 10, 12a, 135.) We have determined that the request seeks disclosable public records in our possession. (See Gov. Code, § 6253, subd. (c).) We are still reviewing those documents to see if any portion of them may be subject to redaction based on the applicable privileges or exemptions under the Public Records Act. We anticipate producing responsive, non-privileged,

On December 24, 2018, this office notified you by letter that it was extending the deadline for responding to your request by 14 days. On January 7, 2019, we notified you by letter that we needed more time to complete our search for responsive records and that we would provide you an update by January 30, 2019. We are withholding records, and redacting information, that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney-client privilege. Confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954, which protects confidential communications between an attorney and client, are expressly incorporated into the CPRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Roberts v. City of Palmdale (1993) 5 Cal.4th 363.) In the present case, California Department of Justice attorneys provide legal advice to the Attorney General and his designees. Accordingly, all records pertaining to confidential communications between the Attorney General or his designees and California Department of Justice attorneys concerning legal matters are confidential pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, and are exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. We are also withholding records that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney workproduct exemption. This exemption protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the CPRA as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Records such as confidential analyses, draft language and memoranda prepared by California Department of Justice attorneys or at their direction are subject to the attorney work-product exemption and are consequently exempt from disclosure under the CPRA. We are also withholding records that are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the deliberative process privilege, which exempts from disclosure materials that would expose an agency's decision making process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion within the agency and thereby undermine the agency's ability to perform its functions. Even if the content of a document is purely factual, it is nonetheless exempt from public

As such, individual criminal records are

							also exempt from disclosure under the PRA. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k).) On this basis, we deny your request. You may obtain your own criminal history record using a procedure that allows the Department to verify your identity and safeguard your privacy. To obtain a copy of your criminal history record, you must pay a $25 processing fee, fill out a Form BCIA 8016RR, (attached), and submit the form while having your fingerprint images taken by a Live Scan service provider. To do this, use the following instructions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use the BCIA 8016RR Live Scan Form that is attached. • Check "Record Review" as the "Type of Application". • Enter "Record Review" on the "Reason for Application" line. • Fill out all your personal information. • Take the completed form to any Live Scan site for fingerprinting services. Fingerprinting services are available at most local police departments, sheriff's offices or any public applicant Live Scan site. To find the sites nearest to you, their fingerprint rolling fees (which would be in addition to the above-described processing fee they would collect on the Department behalf), and acceptable methods of payment, go to this website: https://uoag.ca.gov/fingerprints/locations. Once your fingerprints have been processed, a copy of your record will be sent to you. PRA-2018-02507	Tabelin (Evictions-Judgements)	Kirstie	12/17/2018	RECORD OF AN EVICTION AND JUDGEMENT AGAINST KIRSTIE TABELIN	Completed	Erin Nickless	You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. The DOJ is not a depository for records for the entire state of California. We only maintain records that fall within our own Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since you are seeking eviction records, you may wish to direct your request to the local superior court in which the case was filed.
PRA-2018-02508	Cheung (Divorce Decree)	Alex	12/17/2018	Divorce Decree	Completed	Erin Nickless	To the extent that you are seeking birth, death, marriage, and/or divorce records, we must deny your request. The records you have requested are not in the custody or control of the DOJ. In general, certified copies of divorce decrees are available from the Superior Court in the county where the decree was granted. Some birth, death, marriage, or divorce records are available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital

PRA-2018-02511	Bailey (SB 657)	Gregory	12/17/2018	Looking for a list of companies which must comply with the California Transparency in Supply Chain Act (SB 657) provided to the Attorney General by the CA Franchise Tax Board On page 15 of the California Transparency in Supply Chain Act: Each year, the California Franchise Tax Board evaluates information from state tax returns to determine which companies must comply with the Act, and provides a list of those businesses to the Attorney General. Is this list available to the public? Any assistance or guidance you can provide is greatly appreciated.	Completed	John M. Applebaum	The Act added (among other provisions) section 19547.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, which requires the FTB to provide the Attorney General's Office with a list of retail sellers and manufacturers that are required to disclose efforts to eradicate slavery and human trafficking, as specified. Under this section, the FTB is required to annually submit the list to this office. We have carefully evaluated your request and have come to the conclusion that we cannot provide you with the list you have requested, as it contains confidential taxpayer information, the disclosure of which is prohibited under state law. As such, the list is exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k).) Specifically, pursuant to Revenue and Taxation Code section 19542, except for reasons not applicable to your request, "it is a misdemeanor for the Franchise Tax Board or any member thereof, or any deputy, agent, clerk, or other officer or employee of the state ... , who in the course of his or her employment or duty has or had access to returns, reports, or documents required to be filed [with the FTB] under this part, to disclose or make known in any manner information as to the amount of income or any particulars (including the business affairs of a corporation) set forth or disclosed therein." Similarly, pursuant to Revenue and Taxation Code section 19552, information furnished to the FTB "shall be used solely for the purpose of administering the tax laws or other laws administered by the person or agency obtaining it. Any unwarranted disclosure or use of the information by the person or agency, or the employees and officers thereof, is a misdemeanor." With respect to the FTB list provided to the Attorney General's Office, a company's inclusion on the list necessarily means that the company has filed a tax return that states that the company had annual worldwide gross receipts that exceed one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). (See Civ. Code, § 1714.43, subd. (a)(I); Rev. & Tax. Code, § 19547.5, subd. (a)(I).) Thus, were the Attorney General to publicly disclose the list in response to a Public Records Act request, the Attorney General would be disclosing those companies with receipts exceeding $100 million, income information derived from the companies' tax returns. As such, in the absence of any authorization for the Attorney General to make the list public, Revenue and Taxation Code sections 19542 and 19552 preclude the Attorney General from disclosing the names of the companies on the list. Thank you for your interest in the Act and for contacting our office.

First, the terms of your request cover confidential law enforcement records of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (t), expressly exempts from disclosure records of complaints to and investigations conducted by the Attorney General and the Department of Justice. Investigative records do not lose their exempt status after conclusion of the investigation. (Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354-355.) Second, your request encompasses documents exempt from disclosure pursuant to the attorney work product doctrine or the attorney-client privilege. Confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, including the attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954, and the work product exception contained in Code of Civil Procedure section 2018.030, are incorporated into the Public Records Act as exemptions from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Roberts v. City of Palmdale (1993) 5 Cal.4th 363; County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Third, your request covers documents exempt from disclosure pursuant to the deliberative process privilege. Records that reveal deliberative processes are protected through application of Government Code section 6255. The deliberative process privilege exempts from disclosure materials that would expose an agency's decision-making process in such a way as to discourage candid discussion toward and within the agency and thereby undermine the agency's ability to make informed decisions. (Labor & Workforce Dev. Agency v. Superior Court (2018) 19 Cal.App.5th 12, 30.) Even if the content of a document is purely factual, it is nonetheless exempt from public scrutiny if it is actually related to the process by which policies are formulated or if it is inextricably intertwined with the policy- or decision-making process. (Times Mirror Co. v. Superior Court (1991) 53 Cal.3d 1325.) Fourth, some of the records responsive to your request contain private identifying information, such as non-commercial addresses, e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers, along with other sensitive personal information or information about personnel matters. This information is protected from disclosure. (Cal. Const., art. I, §1, as incorporated into Public Records Act by Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Gov. Code, § 6255.) Finally, the request imposes an unreasonable burden. For example, your proposed search terms "privacy law" and "privacy act" encompass a large number of records unrelated to the California Consumer Privacy Act, including emails containing a standard confidentiality notice. The expense and burden of reviewing and identifying all communications responsive to these search terms to determine if they are related to the CCPA is not in the public interest. (Gov. Code, § 6255; American Civil Liberties Union Foundation v. Deukmejian (1982) 32 Cal.3d 440, 452-453.) Accordingly, we modified the search terms to include "AB 375" and "SB 1121" to more reasonably narrow the search for CCPA-related communications. The vast majority of responsive records using the modified criteria are exempt from disclosure for the reasons noted in the proceeding paragraphs. Enclosed are non-exempt documents that are responsive to your request, stamped AG0001 through AG0517. Where appropriate, we have redacted exempt information when a document also contained non-exempt, responsive information. Per your request, we have provided these records in electronic form. On December 21, 2018, Micah Osgood sent an extension letter.

PRA-2018-02517	Blamey (Ronald Blamey)	Sophia	12/17/2018	Transcripts of the trial of Ronald D. Blamey in the death of Michiel Blamey that began in March, 2001. If the transcripts are not available, was there a contracted court reporter with publicly available contact information?	Completed	Dawn Stott	On December 17, 2018, we received your email request seeking copies of "transcripts of the trial of Ronald D. Blarney in the death of Michiel Blarney that began in March, 2001." On December 20, 2018, I followed up with you via email regarding the types of transcripts you were requesting. You responded that you were only looking for reporters' transcripts. Unfortunately, we are not able to provide you with copies of the requested reporter's transcripts because such transcripts are exempt from disclosure under the PRA. Specifically, California Government Code section 69954, subdivision (d), provides as follows: (d) Any court, party, or person who has purchased a transcript may, without paying a further fee to the reporter, reproduce a copy or portion thereof as an exhibit pursuant to court order or rule, or for internal use, but shall not otherwise provide or sell a copy or copies to any other person or party. Based on our understanding of Government Code section 69954, a person who wishes to obtain a copy of the transcript for a particular court proceeding must get it from the court reporting agency that transcribed the proceeding. Additionally, a public agency in possession of such transcript is prohibited from providing a copy of the transcript to the requesting party. This statutory directive is incorporated into the PRA by California Government Code section 6254, subdivision (k). Accordingly, this office cannot provide you with copies of the requested transcripts of oral court proceedings. Perhaps the Court Reporter's Office and/or the Clerk of the Court for Nevada County will be able to provide information concerning how to locate and purchase court transcripts of such proceedings. You can find additional information regarding Nevada County court reporters here: http://nccourt.net/geninfo/reporters.shtml

First, criminal history records are not subject to disclosure under the California Public Records Act. In California, state and local summary criminal history information is confidential and access is strictly regulated by statute. California Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the DOJ to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, to certain employers or regulatory agencies, or to the person who is the subject of the record. You are not considered an authorized employer or regulatory agency under California Penal Code section 11105, thus your request for criminal history information is denied. Second, without confirming or denying that the individual you named is a registered sex offender in California, most of the information provided by registering sex offenders during the registration process is confidential (i.e., not open to public inspection). (Pen. Code, § 290.021.) Additionally, the PRA expressly exempts from disclosure documents that are private in nature, as well as documents that are investigatory in nature. (Gov't Code §§ 6254, subs. PRA-2018-02524	Nelsen (common interest agreement)	Maxford	12/18/2018	In accordance with the California Public Records Act, I'd like to submit the following request for public records on behalf of the Freedom Foundation. Specifically, I am seeking: 1. A copy of any common interest agreement involving (1) the Washington Office of the Attorney General, (2) the Oregon Department of Justice, (3) the California Department of Justice, (4) the Service Employees International Union (SEIU), (5) the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), and (6) Altshuler Berzon LLP.		Completed	Anna Rich We have reviewed your request and have determined that the records responsive to your requests are exempt from disclosure under the attorney work-product privilege and/or the pending litigation exemption. The following is an explanation of the exemptions that apply to the records we are withholding: Attorney Work Product The attorney work product exception protects the confidentiality of any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) This confidentiality provision is incorporated into the Public Records Act as an exemption from disclosure. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) Records such as confidential analyses, draft language and memoranda prepared by the attorneys employed with the Attorney General's Office are subject to the work product exception and are consequently exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. The documents responsive to your request include confidential communications containing legal advice and/or attorneys' impressions, conclusions, litigation strategy, or opinions. Accordingly, these confidential documents are exempt from disclosure. Pending Litigation Exemption Agencies may withhold the disclosure of records pertaining to pending litigation to which the public agency is a party until the pending litigation has been finally adjudicated or otherwise settled. (Gov. Code., § 6254 subd. (b).) The pending litigation exemption does not duplicate the attorney work product exemption but is broader and covers documents prepared by the agency in anticipation of, or for use in, litigation. (County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (Axelrad) (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 831; Fairley v. Superior Court (1998) 66 Cal.App.4th 1414, 1422.) The documents responsive to your request include documents prepared by the agency in anticipation of, or for use in, litigation. Accordingly, these confidential documents are exempt from disclosure.

We have redacted certain private identifying information, such as non-commercial addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers, along with other sensitive personal information such as social security numbers and credit card numbers based on considerations of personal privacy. (Cal. Const., art. I, §1, as incorporated into Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Gov. Code, § 6255.) At this time, we do not have a list of CPRA request received in November or December 2018, or January 2019. This completes our response to your request.
PRA-2018-02529	Hyland (CCWs issued by Santa Clara Sheriff)	Lacy	12/18/2018	CCW (Concealed Carry Weapon) Permits issued by the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office within a five year period (2014-2018). I would like the names and identifiers of each individual whom a permit was issued, as well as the date the permit was issued.	Completed	Public Records	On January 7, 2019, Public Records responded as follows: As a preliminary matter, the Department's Carry Concealed Weapons (CCWs) system only gives point-in-time data. This means it can only give a picture of the data as it appears in the system on the day a report is run, and the Department could not produce a report with a full, all-inclusive picture of all transactions since 2014. As such, to the extent we could provide you information-which, as explained below, would contain no identifying information-we could only tell you what appeared in the system on the day a report was run. As a result, if information regarding an application or permit holder was entered and subsequently changed before a report was run, the report will only capture the changed version of the data for that application. In cases where a record of a permit holder was removed as a result of expiration or denial, the report will not capture that entry. As a result, previous versions of entries that have since been changed or removed from our system would not appear in a report we would run. For example, if a license was reflected in the system on January 1, 2016, then shortly thereafter expired and, as a result, later removed from our system, that license would not be captured if we ran the current numbers. Additionally, while Penal Code section 26225 requires law enforcement agencies to send copies of approvals and denials of CCW permits to the Department, the Department has encountered inconsistent reporting by issuing agencies, and the actual issuance of CCWs takes place on the local law enforcement agency level. Finally, to the extent the Department might have information available to it with which to compile a response to your request, the information would be provided to the Department pursuant to Penal Code section 26225. The Department is only authorized to provide personal information obtained pursuant to Penal Code section 26225 to certain people or entities in order "to assist in the investigation of crime, the prosecution of civil actions by city attorneys ... , the arrest and prosecution of criminals, and the recovery of lost, stolen, or found property." (Pen. Code, § 11106, subd. (a)(I)(C).) Members of the general public making Public Records Act requests are not on the list of entities or persons who can be given that information. (See Pen. Code, §§ 11105 & 11106, subd. (a)(I)-(2).) Though it appears you are an investigator from a district attorney's office, you submitted your request as a Public Records Act request, and we make all Public Records Act response determinations without consideration of the identity of the requestor. Put differently, we respond to Public Records Act

							requests from someone working for a government agency the same way we would respond to those requests if they came from a member of the press or an anonymous requestor. In sum, the Department does not have records that include the names of every person who was issued a CCW permit from the Santa Clara Sheriffs office dating back to January 1, 2014. Moreover, if the Department had a list with the names of CCW holders dating back to January 1, 2014, that list would be exempt from production in response to a PRA request. (See Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k) [incorporating disclosure prohibitions contained in other statutes into the Public Records Act].) Accordingly, we deny your request as cast. Given that the information the Department has is limited and there are constraints on our ability to provide that information in response to a Public Records Act request, we would recommend that you seek the requested records from the Santa Clara Sheriffs Office. On January 2, 2019 an extension letter was sent

PRA-2018-02535	Baron	Noah	12/20/2018	I seek the following records, to the extent such records are in your custody, possession, or control: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All documents related to Sergeant Patrick M. Tobin of the San Francisco Police Department. • All documents related to Sergeant Lawrence McDevitt of the San Francisco Police Department. • All documents related to any investigation(s) by the State of California into the 2010 incident of a "series of racist, sexist and homophobic text messages" that were "found to have been shared among a group of SFPD officers," as referenced in the Collaborative Reform Initiative: An Assessment of San Francisco Police Department report by the United States Department of Justice ("DOJ Report") at page ix, available at https://ric-zai-inc.com/Publications/cops-w0817-pub.pdf. • All documents related to any investigation(s) by the State of California into the "similar incident made public in early 2016," as referenced in the DOJ Report at page ix. • All documents related to any investigation(s) by the State of California into the San Francisco Police Department or any office, employee, or agent thereof, pertaining to any incident(s) of assault, discrimination, or harassment on the basis of sexual orientation or gender identity, from 2010 until present, by SFPD officers on or against other SFPD officers. • All documents related to any investigation(s) or report(s) by the State of California relating to the San Francisco Police Department or any office, employee, or agent thereof, pertaining to incidents of anti-LGBT (lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender) prejudice, harassment, or discrimination. 		Completed	Nancy Beninati	January 14, 2019 response: Your public records act request references the review and report conducted by the U.S. Department of Justice (US DOJ), Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS). For purposes of this response, we would like to clarify our office's role with respect to our Memorandum of Understanding with the San Francisco Police Department. In October 2016, the US DOJ issued a report that included 272 recommendations to help the San Francisco Police Department improve its policies and practices in the areas of use of force, bias, community policing, accountability, recruitment, hiring and personnel matters. Subsequently, the US DOJ informed the San Francisco Police Department that it was terminating its collaborative reform partnership to provide technical assistance in implementing those 272 recommendations. Subsequently, on February 5, 2018, this office entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with the City and County of San Francisco and the San Francisco Police Department for the sole purpose of evaluating and reporting on the San Francisco Police Department's implementation of the 272 US DOJ recommendations following the US DOJ COPS collaborative reform process. Given this context, this office does not have any responsive records. On January 3, 2019, Public Records sent an extension letter.

PRA-2018-02539	Watson (Criminal Report)	James	12/21/2018	Shasta County Sheriff's Office criminal report where Todd Garr and Tom Mello are listed as involved parties. These records are held by Deputy Attorney General Cliff Zall. The release of records was previously discussed with DAG Zall. If they could be delivered in electronic format to jwatson@chp.ca.gov<mailto:jwatson@chp.ca.gov>. Any questions please call (916)843-3060.		Completed	Michael Dolida	As a preliminary matter, we must deny your request under the California Public Records Act (PRA). The documents you seek are all part of the investigation file and, thus, are expressly exempt from disclosure under the PRA. (Gov. Code § 6254, subd. (f); Williams v. Superior Court (1993) 5 Cal.4th 337, 354.) No time limit exists for this exemption, so it continues to apply even after the investigation at issue has concluded. (Williams v. Superior Court, supra, at p. 355.) However, the Attorney General's Office does have the authority to investigate criminal behavior and disseminate criminal records to other law enforcement agencies pursuant to Penal Code section 11050, et seq. As such, please find enclosed the Shasta County's "Integrated Public Safety Report, Officer report for Incident 18S037339" dated November 1, 2018.

JTH Tax Inc (DBA Liberty Tax Services) Notice of Entry of Judgement Dated June 17, 2009 Judgement an Permanent Injunction Dated June 15, 2009 The Injunction orders that the defendant notify the California Attorney Generals Office, Consumer Law Section within one week of knowledge of a violation. How do I obtain records of the notifications that have been submitted to the Consumer Law Section of the California Attorney General's Office. I		Completed	Amos Hartston	We respectfully decline your request. The records subject to your request would be confidential law enforcement records of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) expressly exempts from disclosure records of complaints to and investigations conducted by the Office of the Attorney General and the Department of Justice. (Gov. Code § 6254, subd. (f).) Any reports provided to our office for purposes of monitoring compliance with the June 2009 injunction, along with other documents in our investigative file, would be exempt from disclosure as confidential law enforcement investigation records.

If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of a local or another state agency, we suggest that you direct your request to that agency, in this case, the local police department where the incident took place.
PRA-2018-02543	Weber (CDC No.)	Samantha	12/24/2018	I am writing to request a prisoner number or CDC identification number for Daniel Robert Branton, and his date of birth is September 15, 1979. I am writing for assistance in reestablishing contact with my friend and former coworker, Daniel Robert Branton, who recently self-surrendered to the authorities in November after numerous court appearances in the state of California. Mr. Branton believed that he was likely to be incarcerated a low-security establishment, possibly working under supervision, and possibly in a different state. I wish to request his prisoner number or identifying information so that I may send him a letter.	Completed	Erin Nickless	You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since you are seeking to ascertain the location of an incarcerated individual, you would need to go through the county Sheriff's Department if they are in a local jail, or the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) if they are in a state prison. Information on locating inmates within the CDCR system can be found at http://inmatelocator.cdcr.ca.gov/ .

PRA-2018-02546	Montanez	Albert	12/24/2018	Hello, I'm not sure if this is the right place to contact about a copy of my past restraining order. I'm sure It just ended this month after three years, but would I ke to have a copy of it. It was against Aimee E. Cole, my son's mother. Also would like to see if I can get help on getting information on what are my restrictions are with firearms. If I can get a copy of this information, and also a link where I can read what I can and can't do. This would be a ton of help for me, not only for my family but also For others around me. My name is Albert Montanez, and I appreciate your help.		Completed	Jaimie Tackett To the extent that the California Department of Justice (DOJ) has the information you seek, it would be maintained in the California Restraining and Protective Order System (CARPOS), which is a statewide database designed to store information identifying persons named in restraining orders and is accessible via the California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS). Access to the telecommunications system utilized by law enforcement agencies, including the DOJ, is restricted by law. (Gov. Code§ 15152). Access to records relating to CLETS inquiries is similarly restricted. Confidentiality provisions I ke these are expressly incorporated into the PRA (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k)). For this reason, we must deny your request. To the extent that you are seeking firearms restrictions regarding persons who have restraining orders, reviewing the FAQs for the Bureau of Firearms may help to answer additional questions. (Available at https://oag.ca.gov/firearms/faqs.) Furthermore, in order to determine if you are eligible to possess, receive, own, or purchase a firearm, you will need to submit to the DOJ a Personal Firearms Eligibility Check (PFEC) form, a copy of your California Driver License or Identification Card, and a check or money order for the fee of $20. The application must be signed and notarized, and include an impression of your right thumbprint. If you are a non-U.S. citizen, you must also submit a copy of your Alien Registration or I-94 Card. For your convenience, a copy of the form you would use to make a request for a PFEC is included with this letter. For more information regarding this process, please see the Bureau of Firearms website, FAQs, Personal Firearms Eligibility Check Program. If records are withheld or redacted from documents responsive to your request, we will provide an explanation for doing so with that production. On February 20, 2019, Michele Inan sent a status update: Dear Ms. Yoon-Hendricks: This letter responds to your email received on December 24, 2018, seeking disclosure of records pursuant to the California Public Records Act, Gov. Code, § 6250 et seq. Your request seeks "any records, investigations, reports or similar documents related to any alleged misconduct or behavior regarding senior accounting manager Lloyd Carter." Your request was received on December 24, 2018. On January 3, 2019, the California Department of Justice (DOJ) notified you that it was extending the deadline for responding to your request by 14 days, to January 17, 2019. On January 18, 2019, the DOJ notified you that your request seeks records in our possession, that we were gathering and reviewing those records, and that we anticipated we would be able to provide you a further response by February 15, 2019. We have now reviewed some, but not all, of the records responsive to your request, and have determined that they consist of personnel or similar files that are exempt from disclosure under Government Code section 6254, subdivision (c). Employees have a significant privacy interest in personnel or similar records. (BRV, Inc. v. Superior Court (2006) 143 Cal.App.4th 742, 756.) That right, however, is not absolute. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (c), exempts personnel or similar files, disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Whether disclosure would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy depends on several factors, including: (1) whether the complaint or allegation is of a "substantial" nature (rather than trivial or baseless) (American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees v. Regents of University of California (1978) 80 Cal.App.3d 913, 918); (2) whether the complaint or allegation is "wellfounded" (Bakersfield City School District v. Superior Court (2004) 118 Cal.App.4th 1041, 1047); and (3) whether the potential harm to personal privacy rights is outweighed by the public interest in disclosure where the weight of the interest is proportionate to the gravity of the governmental tasks to be illuminated and the directness with which the disclosure will serve to illuminate it. (See Rocco Versaci v. Superior Court (2005) 127 Cal.App.4th 805; Los Angeles Unified School District v. Superior Court (2014) 228 Cal.App.4th 222, 242.) In light of the foregoing considerations, the records we have reviewed to date are exempt from disclosure. We reserve our right to assert any additional exemptions or basis for redaction as we continue our review of records responsive to your request. We are continuing to review the remainder of records responsive to your request, and will provide any non-exempt records. We anticipate that our

If you have additional information, please provide that to us.

								In the event that you are seeking criminal records, the Public Records Unit is unable to produce criminal history records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security . We hope this information has been of assistance.

Information needed in connection with law suit filed by his interpreter for unpaid fees in Small Claims in which Mr. Toor was personally injured in car accident. Hearing on Jan 8, 2019.		Completed	Erin Nickless	To the extent that you are seeking birth, death, marriage, and/or divorce records, we must deny your request. The records you have requested are not in the custody or control of the DOJ. In general, certified copies of divorce decrees are available from the Superior Court in the county where the decree was granted. Some birth, death, marriage, or divorce records are available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. The OVR website is located at: https://www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CHSI/Pages/Birth%2C-Death%2C-Fetal-Death%2C-Still-Birth--Marriage-Certificates.aspx . Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. Since you are seeking records filed with a local court, you may wish to direct your request to their office.
PRA-2018-02561	Wang (probation data - companies)	Fei	12/26/2018	I am looking for county level adult probation data, more specifically, which counties are using private probation companies to supervise adult felony and misdemeanor probation, between 2003 and 2017. Thank you.		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	The California Department of Justice (Department) does not have responsive records as we do not collect this information. All of our adult probation and criminal justice personnel data can be found on the AG's OpenJustice website, here: https://openjustice.doj.ca.gov/data . The Department responds to this request only with regard to its own records. If you wish to review records in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request for records to that agency.
PRA-2018-02562	Wang (probation data - racial composition)	Fei	12/26/2018	I am looking for county level adult probation data, more specifically, the racial composition of probationers, as well as the racial composition of probation officers at the county level between 2003 and 2017. Thank you.		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	The California Department of Justice (Department) does not have responsive records as we do not collect personal identifying information of adult probationers or probation officers. All of our adult probation and criminal justice personnel data can be found on the A G's OpenJustice website, here: https://openiustice.doj.ca.gov/data . The Department responds to this request only with regard to its own records. PRA-2018-02576	Hylton (PRA communications)	Richard	12/26/2018	I seek all communications between San Diego County and the CA-DOJ that are related to CPRA requests that were referred to the CA-DOJ, in 2018.		Completed	Erin Nickless	We have conducted a diligent search of the DOJ's legal indexes and logical places, knowledgeable persons, and have been unable to locate any responsive records. Please note that, absent a request for representation from another agency, DOJ will respond solely on its own behalf, and not on behalf of other agencies. Since you are seeking referrals generated by the San Diego County Sheriff's Department, you would need to direct your request to their office. It is possible that the referral mentioned in your request is sent to the requester, rather than to DOJ directly. When the DOJ Public Records Coordinator refers an individual to another agency, we contact the requester only. We do not send any referral to the agency to which they are being referred. You would need to confirm with San Diego County Sheriff's Department to determine if that is also their practice, as we are unfamiliar with their specific process for handling PRA requests.

PRA-2018-02559	California Gaming Association (Rules and Regulations)	Person	12/27/2018	This letter is to request access to records in the possession of the California Department of Justice ("DOJ"), including but not limited to the Bureau of Gambling Control, for the purpose of inspection and copying pursuant to the California Public Records Act (Government Code Section 6250 et seq.) and Article I, Section 3 of the California Constitution. The information that we ask to inspect is as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any and all records and communications in the possession of the DOJ pertaining to the play of craps and roulette, including but not limited to the rules, regulation, approval, and advisories of same or similar games, at tribal casinos in California. 	Completed	Paras Hrishikesh Modha	On January 18, 2019, Paras Modha sent a response: Please find attached some of the Department's records that are responsive to your request. Most of the Department's records that you are seeking are withheld because they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to one or more of the following: 1. Except as specifically provided in the Gambling Control Act, the records of the Bureau of Gambling Control, a subdivision within the Department, are exempt from disclosure under the Public Records Act. (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (c).) In addition, subdivision (d) of Business and Professions Code section 19821 makes it unlawful for an official or employee of the Department to knowingly disclose or furnish records or information to a person not authorized by law to receive them, except as necessary for the administration of the Gambling Control Act. A review of your request suggests no applicable exception to the general exemption from disclosure under the Public Records Act set forth above. (See also Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k) [incorporating confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law].) Accordingly, any records that would be responsive to your request are exempt from disclosure by the terms of the Public Records Act, pursuant to Government Code section 6254, subdivision (k). Your request for disclosure of these records is therefore denied. 2. Subdivision (c) of section 7.4. of the 1999 Tribal-State class III gaming compacts between the State and Indian tribe with casinos in California similarly provides that records received from the tribes or information compiled by the state gaming agency from those records shall be exempt from disclosure under the California Public Records Act. (http://www.cgcc.ca.gov/?pageID=compacts). Tribal-State Compacts executed and ratified after the 1999 compacts contain similar provisions. Your request for disclosure of these records is therefore denied. 3. Additionally, your request also encompasses records that are exempt from disclosure under the attorney-client privilege or the attorney work product doctrine. The attorney-client privilege contained in Evidence Code section 954 protects confidential communications between an attorney and the client, including confidential communications between an attorney within the Attorney General's Office and the attorney's clients. The attorney work product doctrine protects from disclosure any writing that reflects an attorney's impressions, conclusions, opinions, legal research, or legal theories that is maintained as confidential. (Code Civ. Proc., § 2018.030.) Government Code section 6254, subdivision (k), incorporates confidentiality privileges set forth elsewhere in law, and exempts from disclosure records covered by the attorney-client privilege and the attorney work product doctrine. (Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); see County of Los Angeles v. Superior Court (2000) 82 Cal.App.4th 819, 833.) In addition to the attached disclosure, I also want to make you aware that the Bureau of Gambling Control has made all of its Tribal Casino Advisories available to the public at the following link: https://oag.ca.gov/gambling/advisories. On January 7, 2019, Paras Modha sent an extension letter.

PRA-2018-02573	Walsh (BGC applications)	Benjamin	12/28/2018	I respectfully request all documents, applications, approvals and records regarding or referencing Magnolia House Casino and Rancho's Club since July 1, 2018. Including but not limited to: License applications (including Key Employee transfer applications), applications for game approvals, applications for promotion approvals. Additionally, I request all applications filed by Shaun Yaple with the Bureau of Gambling Control within the past 2 years.		Completed	Riann Kopchak The Gambling Control Act provides that the Bureau "shall maintain a file of all applications for licenses" and that the file is "open to public inspection." (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (b).) The Act specifies that except as provided therein, the records of the Bureau are exempt from disclosure under the California Public Records Act. (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code, § 19821, subd. (c).) Business and Professions Code section 19821, subdivision (d), further specifies that it is unlawful for an official or employee of the Department to knowingly disclose or furnish records or information to a person not authorized by law to receive them, except as necessary for the administration of the Gambling Control Act. In accordance with California Business and Professions Code section 19821, subdivisions (b) and (c), subject to the redactions detailed below, please find enclosed a copy of the following record: • Application for Gambling Establishment Key Employee License, Shaun L. Yaple, Applicant, received November 27, 2017. The license application required redactions of the following personal information that is exempt from disclosure: residence address, home and personal contact phone numbers, applicant birth date, and social security number. This personal information has been redacted in accordance with Government Code sections 6255, subdivision (a), and 6254, subdivision (c) ("personnel, medical, or similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy"). The public interest served by not disclosing this personal information clearly outweighs the public interest served by its disclosure since this information is protected by the strong public policy set forth in California Constitution article I, section 1 - the right of privacy - yet is of minor significance for legitimate uses. Identity theft and similar serious crimes often rely on such personal information. Non-disclosure of the personal information not specifically exempt from disclosure by subdivision (c) of Government Code section 6254 is therefore exempt from disclosure in accordance with Government Code section 6255, subdivision (a). A review of your records request with respect to other requested records suggests no applicable exception to the general exemption from disclosure under the Public Records Act set forth in Business and Professions Code section 19821, subdivision (c). For the foregoing reasons, except for the record of which a copy is attached, your request for records under the Public Records Act is denied. The decisions described herein with respect to the requested records have been made by Staff Services Manager Riann Kopchak and Deputy Attorney General Derry L. Knight.

Note, we have redacted personally identifiable information such as home addresses, cell phone numbers, and personal email addresses contained in this record, based on considerations of personal privacy. (Art. I, sec. 1 of Cal. Con. as incorporated into the PRA by Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (k); Gov. Code, § 6255.) Specifically, the request seeks information concerning the specified proposal, and does not seek personal information; balancing the records requested and the purpose for such request against the need to protect the privacy of persons whose records were included in this record, the office has redacted any personal information because the need for privacy outweighs the need for disclosure. In regard to item (3), the California Department of Justice does not have responsive records. On January 7, 2019, Jaimie Tackett sent an extension letter.

Please note that the Department of Justice does not file the Accusation and therefore we can only provide a list of the served Accusations. At the outset, we note that your request is directed to the Department of Justice but may refer to or include documents in the possession of other agencies, such as the Bureau of Automotive Repair. If you wish to review records that are in the possession of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency.
PRA-2018-02597	Windley (complaints)	Jake	12/28/2018	Under the California Public Records Act § 6250 et seq., I am requesting an opportunity to inspect or obtain copies of public records that describe consumer or customer complaints against internet service providers operating in the state of California. Specific internet service providers include, but are not limited to, Time Warner Cable, Spectrum Communications, and Charter Communications. The specific subject matter that I am interested in relates to slower internet speeds than were promised or excessive billing.		Completed	Erin Nickless	To the extent that your request seeks consumer complaint records, we must decline your request. Complaints and investigative records are confidential law enforcement records of the Attorney General. Government Code section 6254, subdivision (f) expressly exempts from disclosure investigatory and security files of the Attorney General including complaints about unlawful practices. PRA-2018-02581	Rodriguez (3rd Party Records)	Cyd	12/31/2018	Any and all public records pertaining to, mentioning, involving, or corresponding to former-California State resident, Ms. Charlotte Creason, deceased, from the years 1950 through 1960. Ms. Creason passed September 25, 1958 in Los Angeles, California at Cedar Sinai Hospital. Ms. Charlotte Creason, no middle name, was the mother of Ms. Shelly Leann Creason (neé Karen Rochelle Rosoff), also deceased. Ms. Creason was also a California State resident until the time of her death, dated December 21, 2012.		Completed	Erin Nickless	Absent a request for representation, DOJ responds solely on its own behalf and not on behalf of other agencies. We have searched our records and legal indices and found no records responsive to your request. You appear to be seeking records that are not in the control or custody of the California DOJ. We have no obligation or ability to provide public records that are not in our custody. (Gov. Code, § 6253(c).) Please note that the DOJ is not the depository for records for the entire state of California. The scope of our records related to individual citizens is limited to matters that fall within our Department's purview. If you wish to review records that are in the custody or control of another state or local agency, you should direct your request to that agency. For example, vital records such as birth, death, marriage, and divorce records may be available through the Department of Public Health, Office of Vital Records (OVR). Please review the information at the OVR website to determine if the record you need is registered with the OVR and if the request processing time frames meet your needs. The OVR website is located at: https://www.cdph.ca.gov/Programs/CHSI/Pages/Birth%2C-Death%2C-Fetal-Death%2C-Still-Birth--Marriage-Certificates.aspx . They may also be available through the County Recorder or County Court, depending on the nature of documents sought. In the event that you are seeking criminal records, the Public Records Unit is unable to produce criminal history records as they are exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11105. Penal Code section 11105 expressly authorizes the Attorney General to disclose state summary criminal history information to law enforcement agencies for law enforcement purposes only, or to the person who is the subject of the record. If an individual wishes to review their own criminal history records, they would have to submit a personal request. Information relevant to obtaining Criminal History Records may be reviewed on the Attorney General's website at: http://oag.ca.gov/fingerprints/security .

PRA-2018-02583	Combs (2018 CCWs)	Brandon	12/31/2018	Please consider this a formal request for access to and copies of public records and information pertaining to matters of great public concern, unique to California, and important to our members, supporters, and thousands of law-abiding people and taxpayers throughout California. RECORDS REQUESTED: 1) For the data period of January 1, 2018, through December 31, 2018, inclusive, or as of the data date December 31, 2018, a copy of the DOJ's CCW data / database or other electronic record-keeping, or an electronic export (i.e., .xls, .xlsx, or .csv file type) thereof, that includes, but is not limited to, the following information: a. Issued CCW licenses (initial and renewal), pending applications for CCW licenses, applications for CCW licenses in process, revoked CCW licenses, any other status of CCW license or application therefore, and the following associated data: i. ORI number ii. Licensing authority / agency name iii. Licensing authority / agency county iv. Licensing authority / agency city v. CCW type (i.e., civilian, judicial, custodial officer, reserve officer, place of employment or business-based 90 day license, any other type reported) vi. Licensee / applicant residence state, county, city, and ZIP code vii. CCW Issuance (effective) date, as required to be reported to DOJ under Penal Code § 26225 viii. Expiration date (if known) 2) For the period of January 1, 2018, through December 31, 2018, a copy of all information reported to or collected by DOJ pursuant to Penal Code § 26225(b)-(c). GENERAL COMMENTS: In the past, DOJ has provided common spreadsheet data files containing exported data responsive to requests like this one. If DOJ provides us with a spreadsheet containing the information I requested in this request, I will consider the request satisfied and there will be no need to provide a copy of the database.	Fees Requested	Public Records	February 4, 2019 response: On January 10, 2019, we sent a letter extending our time to respond to January 24, 2019. Exemptions to Your Request As a preliminary matter, we deny your request in part, because some of the data you seek is exempt from disclosure. Specifically, we deny your request for the following data: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Licensee residence information. (See item (l)(a)(vi).) • "CCW Issuance (effective) date, as reported to DOJ under Penal Code § 26225." (See item (l)(a)(vii), italics added.) • Information "collected by the DOJ pursuant to Penal Code section 26225, subdivisions (b)-(c)." (See Item (2), italics added.) We will withhold licensee residence information to protect the privacy rights of the licensees. (See Gov. Code, § 6254, subd. (c); Cal. Const., art. I, § 1.) Given the number of residents in certain zip codes, listing all the residential data you sought could result in providing you data that is not sufficiently de-identified with respect to the licensees covered by the report. Additionally, to the extent the Department has this data, it has been obtained as part of its responsibilities under Penal Code section 11106, subdivision (a)(l), to keep information to "assist in the investigation of crime, the prosecution of [specified] civil actions by city attorneys ... , and the arrest and prosecution of criminals." Penal Code section 11106, subdivision (a)(2), limits the disclosure of the information collected under Penal Code section 11106, subdivision (a)(l), by specifying to whom the Department can provide that information. The information can be provided "upon proper application therefor ... to the officers referred to in [Penal Code section] 11105." Members of the public making California Public Records Act requests are not identified on the list of officers in Penal Code section 11105. On this basis, we deny your request in item (l)(a)(vi) to obtain the residential addresses of CCW applicants and holders. Similarly, to the extent DOJ keeps records of information reported to it pursuant to Penal Code section 26225-be that information reflecting the issuance date of a license, or information submitted pursuant to subdivisions (b)-(c)-it does so as part of the Attorney General's duty under Penal Code section 11106, subdivision (a)(l). Thus, this information is also exempt from disclosure pursuant to Penal Code section 11106, subdivision (a)(2). As such, we deny your request for information listed in items (l)(a)(vii) and (2) of your request.

				SPOILIATION WARNING: This request requires the production of records / information that exist and/or are maintained in electronic form. Such records/ information are often subject to "retention" or "destruction" policies that require their automatic deletion at some point in time. If any records / information that are potentially responsive to this request are subject to such a retention or destruction policy, please prevent their deletion / destruction before you can locate, review and provide us with copies. For all records / information please take all steps necessary to prevent the intentional or accidental destruction / loss of these records / information during the pendency of this request. We request that you confirm that you have placed a "litigation hold" on all responsive records and information. PREFERRED DELIVERY METHOD: Please provide all records and information responsive to this request via e-mail attachment(s); if the files are too large to e-mail, please let us know and we will make arrangements for an alternative means of transmitting the responsive records and information. COMMUNICATIONS ABOUT THIS REQUEST: We acknowledge the following notice on this Web page: "Submitting this form electronically does not provide the Public Records Coordinator with your contact information. In order for us to forward our response to your request, please provide some form of contact information (address, phone number, or e-mail)." Please e-mail us at research@calgunsfoundation.org<mailto:research@calgunsfoundation.org> if you have any questions, wish to communicate about this request, or to provide us with the requested information and records. Thank you for your prompt consideration and fulfillment of this records request. cc: PublicRecords@doj.ca.gov<mailto:PublicRecords@doj.ca.gov> (via e-mail); Robert.Wilson@doj.ca.gov<mailto:Robert.Wilson@doj.ca.gov> (via e-mail)			General Limitations on Compiling Data Responsive to the Remainder of Your Request The Department's CCW system only gives point-in-time data. This means it can only give a picture of the data as it appears in the system on the day a report is run, and the Department could not produce a report with a full, all-inclusive picture of all transactions reported to the Department in 2018. As such, to the extent we can provide you information we could only tell you what appeared in the system on the day a report is run, and that date will depend on a variety of factors, including general Department workload and when we receive payment-discussed below-to program that report. As a result, if information regarding an application or permit holder was entered and subsequently changed before a report was run, the report will only capture the changed version of the data for that application. In cases where a record of a permit holder was removed as a result of expiration or denial, the report will not capture that entry. In sum, previous versions of entries that have since been changed or removed from our system would not appear in a report. Additionally, while Penal Code section 26225 requires law enforcement agencies to send copies of approvals and denials of CCW permits to the Department, the Department has encountered inconsistent reporting by issuing agencies, and the actual issuance of CCW permits takes place at the local law enforcement agency level. Programming Costs Issue As a final matter, the report you are seeking is not one that the DOJ prepares in the ordinary course of business. To create a report, as permitted by workload, we need to have an employee engage in special programming. An Information Technology Specialist I (Range C) needs approximately 3 hours at a rate of $41.71 per hour to program the requested report for a total of $125.13. Pursuant to Government Code section 6253.9, subdivision (b), the Department is entitled to ask you to pay the costs for this programing. Response to Request for Confirmation of a Litigation Hold As to your request for a litigation hold, please be advised that the Department, under its ordinary course of business, places litigation holds as it deems it necessary to preserve records and information in pending or anticipated litigation. Conclusion In sum, we are denying your request in part. With respect to the remainder of your request, for the reasons stated above, the information we can provide may not provide a complete or accurate picture of CCW permits sought and issued in 2018. But the information you seek may be obtained directly from the local agencies that issue the CCW permits. If you would still like the Department to prepare a report, taking into account the exemptions and limitations discussed above, please make a check payable to the Department of Justice in the amount of $125.13, and send it to: California Department of Justice Public Records Coordinator 1300 I Street, Room 1710-06 Sacramento, CA 95814 If we do not receive payment within 20 days, we shall consider the request for records withdrawn and the matter closed.

PRA-2018-02587	Papillon	Ryan	12/31/2018	Arrest records / mugshot photos		Completed	Jaimie Tackett	Unfortunately, the Department of Justice (Department) is unable to comply with your request. The Department maintains the Cal-Photo network and application, which provides law enforcement and criminal justice public agencies access to mugshot images maintained by California's law enforcement agencies, as well as a connection to the photographs and data maintained by the California Department of Motor Vehicles. Pursuant to the Cal-Photo Policies, Practices, and Procedures, information accessed via Cal-Photo is confidential and for official use only by authorized law enforcement personnel and the release of Cal-Photo information for nonlaw enforcement purposes is prohibited. This is due to the fact that Cal-Photo image records are a part of the California state summary criminal history records maintained by the Department, which are not public records.
